Foster Tinsley, 10 Years Old, Killed on Way Home From School—Dr.
Benson Is Injured.

Ten-year-old Foster Tinsley, of Roswell road, was killed instantly Wednesday afternoon by a heavy motor truck and six other persons were injured—two perhaps fatally—in accidents during the day.

Those hurt are: D. P. Moore, 27, of 23 Forrest avenue; Dr. Charles F.
Benson, 251 Ponce de Leon avenue;
Miss Beatrice Selig, 50 Orme circle, and three negroes, W. M. Tatum, J.
M. Turner and Will Cochran. Surgeons at Grady hospital, where Moore and Turner were taken, believe both fatally hurt.

Going Home From School.

The Tinsley youth was struck down by a truck as he was on his way home, with a number of other children, from the R. J. Quinn school.

The machine was driven by Oscar Adams, who was arrested by Lieutenant John Oliver, of the county police force, being released under $1,000 bond.

Plunges Down Shaft.

Moore, who is employed by the Hibbard-Robinson company, 367 Peachtree street, as an automobile salesman, Wednesday night fell from the 20 feet down an elevator shaft in the company's plant, and is believed to be in a dying condition at Grady hospital. Attending physicians are of the opinion that he suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

He was working in the plant at a late hour at night, and thinking that the elevator was in place on the first floor, stepped into the shaft, plunging to the concrete floor of the basement.

W. A. Masser, mechanic, who was also on duty at the plant, was at-

$500,000 Estate
Hangs on Exact Hour 2 Men DiedSon and Grandson Passed Away at Almost Same Time.

New York, May 7.—Attorneys today were working on a unique case, in which the disposition of a $500,000 estate depends upon which of two men, who met death on opposite sides of the globe at almost the same hour, was the first to die.

The estate is that of Captain Colman of the San Francisco Vigilantes of Argonaut days. His heirs are a son, Robert Louis Coleman, San Francisco financier, and a grandson, William T. Coleman, of Monterey, Cal.

The son, with George B. DeLong, a New York broker, was slain by high-waymen in Albania last April 6 while on a tour of the world. On that same date, the grandson died at his home in California.

John F. Bowie, attorney, has been requested to learn the hour and minute when Robert Louis Coleman and his companion were slain on the Cabled press dispatches, which thus far have been Mr. Bowie's only source of information, placed the hour at 10
a. m., April 6, Albanian time. William T. Coleman was reported to have died at 1 a. m., April 6, San Francisco time.

As there are nine hours' difference between Albanian time and San Francisco time, it would appear from news dispatches that the son and grandson died at the same hour, and that disposition of the estates hinges upon a determination of the approximate minute of death.

Mr. Bowie, however, said the official records showed that William T.
Coleman died at 3:30 a. m., which would indicate he survived his uncle in Albania by two and a half hours.

Evelyn Nesbit
Abandons Fight
To Contain Thaw

Declares She Cannot Continue To Buck Millions of Thaw Family.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 7.—
Evelyn Nesbit has abandoned her fight to keep Harry K. Thaw in the Kirkbride sanitarium, and has advised her counsel to drop the opposition to Thaw's release.

"I cannot continue to buck my head against the Thaw millions when the trustees of the estate have withdrawn their objection—the odds are too big, and I am awfully sick and tired of the whole business," Evelyn declared in announcing her decision.
Evelyn has stood alone between Thaw and freedom. Her counsel was to have appeared before Judge Monaghan, in Philadelphia, next Monday on his appeal from the recent decision that Thaw was sane. The hearing has been called off at the request of Miss Nesbit.

Evelyn Nesbit is determined, however, to obtain, if possible, enough money from Thaw to support her son, Russell William Thaw, in whose name she brought her legal objection
to Thaw's release.

REPUBLICANS PLAN
LAST-DITCH FIGHT
FOR COMPROMISEInsurgents Reject Pleas of Regulars To Return to Party Fold on Tax Bill.

Washington, May 7.—Administration leaders in the senate, seeking a tax compromise which will give the bill at least a republican tinge, are finding most doors closed against them, but are determined not to miss any openings.

The latest strategy being considered is a finish fight on the floor for a compromise, and if this fails an attempt to get the conferees on the bill
—when it reaches this stage—in accept the house surplus rate of 37 1/2 per cent, which in itself was a compromise. This, republicans say, would be better than the democratic rate of 40 per cent.

Development of this line of attack came after a conference of senate and house leaders with President Coolidge, who is urging them on to a vigorous stand. Going back to the capitol fresh from this conference, however, they ran into stout opposition in their efforts to seek a compromise.

Insurgents Refuse Pleas.

1. Insurgent republicans, approached with appeals to swing over and vote "regular," would not budge, and indicated they won't budge no matter what plums are offered.

2. Democrats will fight any attempt in conference to include the house surplus rate in the final bill, Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking minority member of the finance committee, said.

"We'll never agree to anything of that kind," Simmons said. "We'll refuse to agree, and the disagreement will be reported back to the house and senate. Our rates will stick, not only in the senate, but also in the house."

Coalition to Stick.

Simmons said he had assurances that the senate insurgents would stand by the democratic rates throughout.

SUPERIOR COURT
JUDGES WILL GET
$10,000 SALARIES

Increases Voted at Meeting of Fulton Board After Prominent Lawyers Appeal for Action.

CITY COURT JUDGES
MAY RECEIVE RAISES

Legislature Will Be Asked To Amend Law To Permit the County To Pay $10,000 Salaries.

By unanimous vote of Fulton county commissioners Wednesday afternoon, salaries of the five judges of Fulton superior court were increased to $10,000 a year. At the same time the board voted to recommend to the next legislature that salaries of judges of the city court and the criminal court of Atlanta be increased to $10,000 a year. This increase is effective October 1, 1924.

This action gives Fulton county judges a higher salary than is paid to any other judicial officers in Georgia and possibly in the south. In only a few states of the north and east are higher salaries the rule.

Five Judges Benefit.

Superior court judges who profit by the increase are W. D. Ellis, George L. Bell, John D. Humphries, E. D.
Thomas and G. H. Howard. These judges will begin drawing $5,000 a year from the county, in addition to $5,000 a year paid them by the state, on October 1. Their present salaries are $7,500 a year, $2,500 of which is paid by the county.

Judge H. M. Reid and Judge Andrew E. Calhoun, of the city and criminal courts of Atlanta, respectively, are paid $7,500 a year each by Fulton county, pursuant to acts of the legislature creating the two courts.
Before their salaries can be increased,
an amendment to those acts must be passed.

Strong arguments in favor of the raises were made by prominent members of the Atlanta bar. Reuben R.
Arnold, James A. Branch and Grover Middlebrooks addressed the board, detailing the arduous services of the judges mentioned, and the inadequacy of their present salaries. The burden of the argument was that if the county desires lawyers of highest caliber for the bench, it must pay salaries which will induce lawyers of this class to choose the bench for their life work.

Etheridge Urges Passage.
Commissioner Paul S. Etheridge, speaking as a member of the Atlanta bar, strongly urged passage of the resolution raising salaries, which was offered by Commissioner E. F. Johnson, chairman of the board, and seconded.

EVIDENCE AGAINST LANGLEY INJURIOUSKentucky Congressman Involved by U. S. Witnesses in Tales of Bribery, Coercion, Conspiracy.

Covington, Ky., May 7.—Tales of conspiracy, coercion and bribery, involving the prohibition departments of two states and men prominent in politics in Kentucky, were told today in federal court here in the trial of Congressman John W. Langley, of Kentucky, and four other defendants, charged with conspiracy to defraud
the United States government through illegal removal of whiskey from a government warehouse in 1921.

Witnesses for the government related a number of "conferences" which took place in the months of September, October and November, 1921, at Lexington and Louisville.
These meetings were arranged in advance, witnesses testified, and were for the purpose of discussing transportation of whiskey from the Belle of Anderson Distillery of Lawrenceburg, Ky., to Philadelphia and other cities.

Congressman Langley attended most of the meetings, testimony showed.
As government witnesses, confessed members of the ring, told of whiskey operations and implicated Langley, the congressman sat undisturbed with

Indians Spurred To Search
For Lost Fliers by Reward

THE LAST PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN OF MAJOR MARTIN, MISSING
ARMY AIR FLIGHT COMMANDER.

Major Martin standing in front of his quarters next to the postoffice at Kanatuk, Portage Bay, Alaska, where he was forced down by a leak in his crankcase. Reading from right to left, Lieutenant Commander Wishaar, U. S. coast guard; Major Martin, Evan J. David, special correspondent of the North American Newspaper alliance, and Captain Gabbett, of the U. S. coast

BY EVAN J. DAVID.
On Board U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Algonquin, Chignik, Alaska, May 7.—Following the failure of a diligent search of the greater part of the sea and coast of the Aleutian Islands for the lost aviators of the United States world flight, the belief grows here that if the flyers are alive they are trapped some where in the desolate wilderness of the interior and that their fate, hourly growing more critical, depends on the success of a new drive over the frozen waste.

In view of the realization, that lives of the airmen may depend on this drive, it is believed that the offer of a reward of $1,000 by the North American Newspaper Alliance will stir the Indians throughout the region to the vigorous search which has become imperative. It would be quite possible for a rescue party of whites and Indians provided with sleds, "bidnarks"—small canoes—and food to get out from Chignik, and follow a line parallel with the high mountains by using strong binoculars they might locate the missing plane. It is a forbidding waste of volcanic mountains and snow covered passes and the wide area to be traversed would require considerable time for a complete search, but the hope of rescue is rapidly narrowing down to such a plan.

U. S. FLYERS FOLLOW
NO PATH OF ROSES.
Dayton, Ohio, May 7.—Judging from the first detailed reports of their progress, the American round-the-world fliers, in their unofficial race with British, French and Portuguese fliers, aren't doing so badly after all.

The desolate, sparsely-populated wastes of the Alaskan coast have presented a far more rugged and dangerous route than have the air lanes taken by the European fliers and the daring U. S. army navigators have made an unparalleled trip, according to maps received from Lieutenant Eric Nelson, one of the trio of flyers carrying the stars and stripes.

This map shows the charted route and the actual course taken, and indicates wide detours necessitated by storms, snow and blizzards.

For one stretch of 90 miles, the fliers were never more than 100 feet above the earth or sea.

On a flight across the ice-clogged mouth of Chatham strait, a distance of 40 miles, they flew at but 20 feet above the surface, and at a point 300 miles northwest of Sitka, they made a perilous trip of 60 miles at an altitude of but 10 feet.

HATFIELD HEADS
T. B. ASSOCIATIONHIGHER TAX RATE DECLARED NEEDEDSeparate Levy, Proposed by School Board, Would Make City's Total $1.89
on $100.

A substantial increase in the city tax rate, estimated variously from 25 to 30 cents, will be necessary to support the present school program, it was made plain by advocates of the independent school board plan speaking Wednesday afternoon at the public hearing before the charter revision committee of city council.

Members of the school board and parent-teacher association officers urged the committee to recommend that the school board plan be submitted to a vote of the people, declaring their belief that Atlanta will vote for tax increases in order to give the system adequate support.

Meets Again Wednesday.
The committee will meet again at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday to hear further arguments in favor of the separate school tax and independent school board. Opponents of the plan will be heard at a later meeting.

W. W. Gaines, school commissioner and author of the new plan explained it to the committee and urged its adoption. It calls for a separate tax of not more than $1 on the $100 of tax values to be levied by the school board and collected through established tax collection agencies of the city with which the school board is to meet all current expenses and interest and sinking fund on all school bonds that might be issued in the future. The bonds now outstanding would be paid off by city council.

It fixes a board of 12 members, each representing one ward, with terms of three years each, and aldermanic terms do now, with four new members going on the board each year.

HENRY FORD'S BID
FOR SHOALS LEASE
LOSING STRENGTH

Advocates Claim, However, Victory in Senate
If Offer Can Be Brought to Vote.

HEARINGS TO LAST CONSIDERABLE TIME

Committee Divided Into Three Sharp Groups;
Chairman Norris Strongly Opposed to Ford Offer.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, May 7.—The sentiment which proposes to lease Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford loses strength gradually.

Nevertheless, the advocates of the Ford offer claim that if they can bring the question to a vote in the senate, they will win. Before the question comes to a vote in the senate, however, there is a serious hurdle to pass. That hurdle is the senate committee under the chairmanship of Senator Norris, of Nebraska, which has charge of the bill and which is now holding hearings on it.

As feeling grows more acute and more and more people want to offer their views, it is apparent that these hearings will continue a considerable time. It is admitted by the advocates of the Ford offer that probably a majority of the senate committee is opposed to accepting Ford's offer.

Divided In Three Groups.

The senate committee, as well as everybody else, is divided into three groups: One, that wants to accept the Ford offer, one that wants to retain Muscle Shoals under government ownership and operate it as a government enterprise, and one that prefers to accept some of the alternative offers.

Even the most earnest advocates of the Ford offer admit that in the committee the union of the group which favors government ownership, plus the group which favors acceptance of another offer, composes a majority over those who favor the Ford offer.

The reason for the strength of the Ford offer in congress rests largely on one cause. There was a period of seven months during which the Ford offer was the only one in existence, and during that period many senators and congressmen became committed to the Ford offer publicly or in other ways that make it embarrassing for them to change now.

Clears Up Complexities.

This early history of the whole Muscle Shoals situation makes many of its present complexities clear.
When the war ended, it looked as if

COOLIDGE SCORES

San Francisco, May 7.—President
Coolidge's lead over Senator Hiram Johnson for California's indorsement
for the republican presidential nomination continued to increase in returns late tonight, the gain being especially apparent as belated tabulations from Los Angeles county came in. Coolidge's lead totaled 46,870.

The figures from 6,326 of the state's 6,974 precincts gave Johnson 248, 543; Coolidge 205,413.

The same precincts gave a slate of delegates to the democratic national convention pledged to William G. Mc-Adoo almost a 6-to-1 lead over an unpledged group which opposed Mc-Adoo. The figures, also from 6,326 precincts: McAdoo, 104,247; "no preference" delegation, 18,061.

The returns were representative of all but one of the state's 58 counties.

Reporter Feigns
Insanity To Test
Criminal Theory

Sanity Board Declared Him
"Dangerous," but Rival Paper Exposed Hoax.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 7.—The scales of justice were being tilted today to gain freedom for John Duncan, a Des Moines newspaper reporter, who was sent to the state insane hospital at Clarinda yesterday, following his successful effort to test
a theory that "any bright criminal could prove himself insane and thus escape punishment for his crimes."

Duncan, who told a wild story about having millions on deposit in a local bank to help defray reparation claims against Germany, was so successful in his actions that the sanity commission ruled him a "dangerous lunatic."

It is considered likely that Duncan will be given his freedom. This was not in accordance with his plans, as he had hoped to stay at the insane hospital for a week or more, but he was recognized as he was being taken to the train en route to the hospital. A rival newspaper reporter exposed the hoax.

Members of the sanity commission would not comment on the case.

BIG MACKEREL RUN

Members of Constitution's Trip to Florida.

News of fishing thrills galore in store for members of The Constitution's automobile tour to Panama City, May 17-25, was received Wednesday in a message from Alfred Tyler, editor and member of the committee which is planning to make the visit of the Georgia motorists in Florida's "Fisherman's Paradise" an event long to be remembered.

In the first place, Mr. Tyler and others of the St. Andrews Bay section predicted that a big run of king mackerel will be on hand to furnish sport for the Atlanta fishermen, and that means, according to those who are familiar with this fast-biting and toothsome fish, enough fun to make even old Isak Walton himself turn over in his grave with envy.

All Kinds of Fish.

But the king mackerel is only one of the fifty-seven varieties of fish offered for the delectation of the Atlanta anglers. Every phase of the sport is given by the many kinds which swarm in the adjacent waters, it is declared. For the man who likes a tug of war with a denizen of the deep there is snapper fishing out tangible Property on Tax Books of City.

Employment of a special tax investigator to list intangible property, such as stocks and bonds, notes and mortgages, on city tax books was recommended to council by its tax committee in special session Wednesday afternoon. The recommendation will be presented to council at its adjourned session this afternoon.

H. E. Parker, former internal revenue department agent, and recently employed by the county commissioners to bring new values to the tax digest, was engaged tentatively on a 10 per cent commission on all taxes collected. The arrangement is subject to approval by the mayor, general council and the city attorney.

Other matters to come before council will include committee reports on street, sewer, and other improvements.

EXTENSION GIVEN
TO MARCH 1, 1925,
CONFEREES AGREE

President, Also, Would Be Requested To Consult Japs on Abrogating Gentlemen's Agreement.

CALIFORNIA SENATORS
'BUCK' ON COMPROMISEBitter Fight Predicted in Senate and House When Conference Report Is Submitted.

BY LYLE C. WILSON.

Washington, May 7.—Severe pressure from the white house has led house and senate conferees on the immigration bill to modify the Japanese exclusion provision by making it effective March 1, 1925, and requesting the president, in the meantime, to negotiate with the Japanese government regarding abrogation of the gentlemen's agreement.

This action was taken late Wednesday, after Coolidge had summoned Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Representative Johnson, of Washington, republican conferees, to the white house and called in Secretary of State Hughes to present the international aspects of the situation over which the executive has been greatly concerned.

Coolidge and Hughes insisted strongly that to enforce exclusion by legislation July 1 of this year would cause serious international complications, because it would not give the necessary time to negotiate an agreement and would result inevitably in deep offense to Japanese sensibilities.

Reconsider Tuesday's Action.

The result was that the conferees went back into session and reconsidered their action of Tuesday, when the president's plea for more time was rejected.

The conferees inserted this proviso in connection with the exclusion action:

"Provided, that this subdivision shall not take effect as to exclusion until March 1, 1925, before which time the president is requested to negotiate with the Japanese government in relation to abrogation of the present arrangement on this subject."

Although the conferees reversed their position, they did not go as far as the president desired. He asked that the exclusion provision be made effective March 1, 1926, but the conferees chopped a year off of this period of grace.

The next question is whether the house and senate membership will accept the compromise.

Shortridge Opposes Compromise.
As soon as he heard of the change of front, Senator Shortridge, of California, announced he would fight the new provision by raising a point of order against the conference report, on the ground that new legislation had been inserted in the bill by the conferees.

"I understand the conferees agreed to provisions which would permit negotiations," he said. "If the object to abrogate an existing agreement, there is plenty of time between now and July 1. If there was an ulterior motive, however, an extension of time of course was necessary."

The proviso, it was noted, only requested the president to negotiate regarding abrogation of the gentlemen's agreement, but it imposed no barrier to negotiation of a new agreement which would be in harmony with the new immigration bill.

A bitter fight is likely in both the house and senate when the conference report comes up. It probably will be considered in the house Friday and by the senate afterwards.

Read Sure of Passage.

"A partial poll of the senate shows the bulk of senators satisfied with the agreement reached by the conferees, and I am confident the matter will have been acted on and passed by the house and senate by Saturday night," Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, declared.

"No suspension of the rules is necessary to permit the inclusion of the proviso offered by the house conferees at the request of President Coolidge. When the measure is returned to the senate Saturday, it will have priority over everything and will delay the senate program of legislation less than 24 hours."

He said only Senators Shortridge and Johnson, of California, contemplated offering serious opposition.

Members of the lower chamber are somewhat puzzled by the suddenly shifted attitude of the house conferees, following the cracking of the presidential whip, but Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, republican leader, believes the administration's wish will be respected by the house.

Die hard exclusionists are expected to make a futile effort to block the measure, but the republican leaders think the exigencies of the situation provide sufficient momentum to carry the bill through the house some time Friday.

JAPS HAVE GIVEN UP ALL HOPES.

Tokio, May 7.—There is practically no hope left among Japanese for a satisfactory solution of the immigration question between this country and the United States in the opinion of foreigners here, who have talked with Japanese officials and influential persons. None of the various proposed compromises, which the press dispatches credit President Coolidge with considering, including the postponement of the provision of the immigration bill excluding Japanese from the United States, will have a marked effect on Japanese opinion.

The general Japanese sentiment is that the fact of exclusion and the inference of Japanese inferiority is too apparent to be covered by any possible compromise.

Ambassador Woods called upon Foreign Minister Matsui today and discussed the situation arising from the agreement of the American senate and house conference on the exclusion provision.

in the gulf. For the light tackle ad-vocate there is fishing in the fresh water streams and lakes where gamey black bass abound, ready to take a chance at a deftly cast fly. And between these two extremes there are about every other variety of finny prey that could be desired.

Residents of Panama City are planning to extend a lavish hospitality, according to Mr. Tyler, and among the entertainments on the program are a sacred concert Sunday night, dances through the week and an all-day boat excursion and fish fry.

Cost of Tour.

Exclusive of transportation, the tour should not cost more than from $25 to $50 per person. Hotel rates are nominal and below usual rates. The Constitution asks an entrance fee of $5 a day, and $2.50 a person. This fee is to partially cover cost of arranging the tour and for providing banners, badges and hotel reservations should be made to the tour manager on the first floor of The Constitution building between 11 and 1 o'clock and between 5 and 7 o'clock. Those desiring to make the trip should not delay making their applications.

HIGH LIGHTS ON TOUR.

Following are the high lights of The Constitution's tour:

Four leaves Atlanta about 7 a. m. Saturday, May 17, and returns May 25. Members may return before or after the official party.

Distance to Panama City, 357 miles.

Fast cars will be grouped into one section to reach Panama City, noon, May 18. Others cars 6 p. m. May 18.

Pathfinder cars will pilot each division. Mechanics and tire changers will accompany the tour.

Ample stops will be made for the comfort of tour members.

Hotel accommodations, en route, and at St. Andrews bay have been arranged by The Constitution and are being allotted members as applications are accepted. Hotel and boarding house rates from $1.50 per day to $5 per day, American plan.

The City of Columbia, Ala., will accept the official tour badge as a pass over their toll bridge across the Chattahoochee river.

Panama City will entertain the entire party for a one day boat excursion and fish fry.

A complete moving picture history of the party will be shown by Low's Grand and for one full week following the tour.

The official badge to be worn by tour members will be the only permit or license required for fresh water fishing in Bay country during the tour.

Several enterprising cities and towns en route will provide varied entertainment and refreshments.

Waterproof celluloid badges and metal name plates will be furnished each member of the tour.

Banners will be provided for the front of all cars. Distinguishing banners will also be provided for the rear of each car in the tour.

RUM SUBMARINES TURN PORPOISES AT DRY PURSUIT

New York, May 7.—Persistent rumors that submarines were being used in smuggling liquor off the south shore of Long Island today proved to be nothing more than fish stories. What were thought to be the conning towers of undersea craft were only the dorsal fins of porpoises sporting themselves in their spring playgrounds.

Spurred by reports of submarines sighted off shore, prohibition agents set out in a fast launch last night to investigate. They sighted a supposed submarine and gave chase. For some time they pursued the object, but it repeatedly disappeared.

When the light came the agents approached close enough to ascertain that it was a porpoise.

ended by Commissioner George M. Hope.

Commissioner Charles G. Turner voiced opposition to immediate action, suggesting that no increase be voted until the legislature could act on the proposal to raise compensation of judges of the city and criminal court. He voted for the resolution, however.

Last November county commissioners voted a $50 increase a month in salaries of the five judges of the municipal court of Atlanta. The increase was from $500 to $550 a month for Chief Judge L. Z. Rosser, and from $450 to $500 a month for Judges McClelland, Ridley, Hathcock and Pettigrew.

Early last year the county board refused to approve payment by the county treasurer of an increase from $350 to $450 per month in the salary of Judge Garland M. Watkins, of the juvenile court, of Fulton county, granted by the judges of the superior court, who under the law, fix that salary.

Judge Watkins then obtained a mandamus from Judge John D. Hunt, chief of superior court, directing County Treasurer H. L. Culbertson to pay the increase. Treasurer Culbertson appealed the case to the supreme court of Georgia, which held that the superior court judges were without power to vote an increase for Judge Watkins during the term for which he already had been appointed. Since that term was for six years, the decision meant that Judge Watkins must wait five years before an increase could be granted him.

Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett, of the Macon circuit, who draws a salary of $9,400 a year, and Judge Peter W. Meldrum, of the eastern circuit, composed of Chatham county, who is paid $8,000, are the highest-salaried judicial officers in Georgia at present.

COOLIDGE CRACKS WHIP FOR LEADERS

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, May 7.—In a series of conferences with house and senate leaders Wednesday, President Coolidge took command of the legislative situation in vigorous fashion and sought to prod his lieutenants at the capitol into saving as much as possible of the administration program.

Coolidge has been inwardly displeased at the failure of his lieutenants in congress to protect the administration from repeated rebuffs. Several incidents Tuesday including the rejection of his immigration plan by the conferees, the threat of the insurgents and democrats to hold congress in session indefinitely, and the republican surrender of the Mellon surtax schedule, caused Coolidge to interfere at this time.

Results Were Immediate.

In rapid succession he called in groups of republican senators and congressmen and by noon they were back at the capitol scurrying around under the white house lash. Results began to show immediately:

1. The immigration conferees reversed their previous action and accepted in essence the president's compromise on Japanese exclusion.

2. House and senate leaders began shaping their program to bring about adjournment by June 1, if possible, and by June 7, at the latest.

3. Opposition to the Bursum bill was organized and appeared so strong that Senator Bursum decided to lay his effort to pass the measure over the president's veto. He had planned to call up the bill Wednesday which has been postponed indefinitely.

4. Republican senators began to lay plans for overthrowing the Simmons tax schedules to which the president objects, when the tax bill gets into conference where they hope to substitute the house provisions, which would be somewhat more acceptable at the white house.

President Cracks Whip.

Coolidge also suggested to the senators that he would like to see reclamation and farm legislation enacted before adjournment but he indicated opposition to the features of the McNary-Haugen bill which would appropriate $200,000,000 for creation of grain export machinery. This and other outlays such as contemplated by the Bursum pension and insurance bills would upset the administration's hope of tax reduction, in the president's opinion, and his leaders were given to understand that they were expected to do everything they could to hold appropriations to the minimum. House leaders also advised the president that they would leave nothing undone to block the Barkley bill to abolish the railroad labor board.

The first conference was held at breakfast when Speaker Gillett, Majority Leader Longworth, Chairman Snell, of the house rules committee, and Chairman Madden, of the house appropriations committee, were invited in. Soon after they left Senator Lodge, majority leader of the senate, and Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, were called in. Senator Borah, of Idaho, was summoned to join them a little later.

Has People's Mandate.

The general legislative situation was covered in these conferences and then Coolidge turned to the delicate task of undoing the Japanese exclusion action of the conferees Tuesday. He consulted Secretary of State Hughes, Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, author of the senate bill, and Representative Johnson, of Washington, author of the house bill. The result was a quick somersault when the conferees returned to the hill.

President Coolidge feels that in the remarkable string of primary victories he has received a mandate of leadership from his party. His showing in California against Hiram Johnson removed all doubt as to his prestige within his own party. It was inevitable, therefore, that he should take charge of the chaotic situation in congress, which was described in these dispatches Tuesday, and seek to establish some responsible leadership that would prevent annihilation of his legislative policies at the hands of the democratic-republican insurgent coalition.

UNCLE JOE CANNON SMOKES SIX CIGARS ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Danville, Ill., May 7.—Uncle Joe Cannon smoked six elongated cigars, chatted with numerous friends who called on him, and took an automobile ride in observance of his 88th birthday Wednesday.

Miss Helen Cannon, his daughter, had just arrived home from a six months' tour of Europe, and had hastened back to Danville in order to be here for her father's birthday.

Cannon will emerge from retirement May 16 to make an address at the district meeting of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. Asked what he intended to talk about, the former speaker of the house of representatives replied:

"Well, considerable, considerable."

Shoals and to make fertilizer for the farmers.

The theory of this early arrangement with Ford was that the investment which the government had made at Muscle Shoals should be regarded as substantially a loss to the government, but that instead of the plant being broken up for junk, it should be kept intact and turned over to Mr. Ford on the basis of what was essentially a nominal price.

Offers Were Solicited.

The army engineers in charge of Muscle Shoals sent out a circular letter, soliciting offers from everybody likely to be interested. Ford responded with his offer. Nobody else did. For seven months Ford's was the only offer in existence. It was during this period that great numbers of people, including congressmen and senators, became committed to support of the Ford offer. The subject was extremely complex and many persons expressed judgment on it on the simple, and what, at the time, seemed a sound basis, that since Ford had made the offer, therefore it must be the best offer available.

Reasons For Delay.

Since the other offers began to come in, the writer of this article has asked two of the representatives of alternative offers why it was that there was this period of seven months during which Ford's was the only offer. From one the reply was that that time was a period of money scarcity and high interest rates, and that therefore it was impossible to make arrangements to borrow the money necessary to be invested at reasonable rates. From another the reply was that it took a great deal of time to consult with capitalists and engineers and otherwise to make the

Shadow of Gallows Blackens CONDEMNED MEN ARRIVE AT PRISON OF DOOM Around Six Doomed Italians

Amite, La., May 7.—Five men stoutly asserting their conviction was a miscarriage of justice and a sixth who maintains that he is already dead and who attempted suicide early today in New Orleans, were in the Tangipahoa parish jail tonight awaiting execution at noon Friday. The prisoners, convicted for the murder of Dallas Calmes at Independence three years ago when Calmes frustrated an attempt to rob the Merchants and Planters bank, left New Orleans, this morning where they have been held for nearly three years and accompanied by a company of National Guardsmen arrived here without incident two hours and a half later.

When the train stopped at Independence the car occupied by the prisoners halted directly before the bank they had planned to rob. Next to the bank was the restaurant operated by Calmes, who was killed by one of the men in the yard at the rear when he investigated a noise that aroused him from his sleep.

Train Carefully Guarded.
Because of threat to wreck the train on route officials of the Illinois Central railroad announced after its arrival that not since President Wilson made his trip through the south had any train on that road received such attention. The special coaches bearing the men and the soldiers and civil officers were searched from end to end in New Orleans yesterday and even the ventilators and electric batteries were removed to ascertain if explosives had been secreted behind them. Then the cars were guarded by railroad special agents through the night. The train was preceded about 300 yards all the way from New Orleans by a motor car which contained a squad of heavily armed railroad detectives.

Roy Leona, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who confessed that he was the leader of the robbery expedition and that he alone fired the shots which killed Calmes, attempted suicide in his cell at New Orleans shortly before daybreak. In some manner he had obtained a knife with a three-inch blade.

Saw Glint of Steel.
When Captain Archie Renssion, the prison superintendent, went to awaken him at 4:15 a. m. he discovered Leona standing in his cell, raving and apparently beating himself with his fist. Captain Renssion caught the glint of steel and although a much smaller man than Leona, leaped into the cell and overpowered him. Leona had stabbed himself in the chest five times, one of the wounds penetrating a lung. His condition was not regarded as serious except for the possibility that pneumonia might develop. Aboard the train a physician had to inject morphine to reduce the pain he was suffering.

Joseph Bocchio requested permission to speak to Mrs. Calmes, widow of the slain man, after his arrival here, and a message sent to her home in Independence brought the reply that she was on the verge of prostration.

Was Plea for Clemency.
George Harpole, her brother-in-law, came to Amite late today and conferred with Bocchio in the presence of District Attorney Matt Allen and Sheriff Bowden. Newspaper men were excluded from the conference, but it was announced later Bocchio had made a last plea for clemency, stating that he never was at any time near the bank and that he did not leave the automobile in which the sextet drove to Independence from New Orleans.

The guard company from New Orleans went on duty about the jail and a deadline was established 75 feet from the structure. Another company will arrive tomorrow night or Friday morning to assist in policing the town the day of the executions.

STAY OF EXECUTION WILL NOT BE SOUGHT.

New Orleans, May 7.—George Gullotta, leading counsel for the six men condemned to hang Friday at Amite, announced tonight he had given up all hope of obtaining a stay of execution for five or them, and that no attempt would be made to appeal to the United States supreme court for intervention.

Girault Farrar and Mr. Gullotta announced at 8:15 o'clock last night, after Federal District Judge Rufus E. Foster had denied an appeal from his refusal to order the release of the men on a writ of habeas corpus, that they would go to Washington on a night train. It was only a few minutes before its departure and Mr. Gullotta, who had all the papers bearing on the case, missed it. Mr. Farrar got aboard, but soon discovered Mr. Gullotta was missing and stopping at Mobile, he returned here today. He said he could have done nothing in Washington without the documents.

MRS. BURGHARD DIES

Pioneer Macon Woman Succumbs to Attack.

Macon, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary C. Burghard, 85, one of Macon's oldest and best-known women, died at her home here this afternoon. She had resided in Macon for 33 years, coming here from New York with her parents, the late Julius and Anna K. Peter, in 1841.

Mrs. Burghard was well versed in Macon's early history and was thoroughly conversant with the events of four wars. She was a member of the Vineville Methodist church. Surviving her are a son, Louis H. Burghard; two daughters, Misses Annie and Minnie Burghard; a brother, Adjutant General Henry J. Peter, U. S. D., of Leesburg, Fla., and six grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 6 o'clock and interment will be at Rose Hill cemetery.

of the world to hold the next meeting of the union in America. Other officers elected were: Colonel George E. Bushnell, Pasadena, Cal., honorary vice president; Dr. W. Jarvis Barlow, Los Angeles, Cal., vice president; Dr. Hoyt E. Dearholt, Milwaukee, Wis., vice president; Dr. George M. Kober, Washington, D. C., secretary; H. B. Platt, New York city, treasurer.

These officers constitute the executive committee, with the addition of the seven following named yesterday: Dr. Henry Boswell, Maize, Miss.; Dr. James A. Britton, Chicago, Ill.; Homer Folks, New York city; Dr. Alexander M. Forster, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Dr. James Alexander Miller, New York city; Frederic B. Pratt, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Dr. John H. Peck, Des Moines, Iowa.

Three honorary members of the association also were elected: Dr. E. O. Otis, Boston; Dr. William H. Welch, Baltimore; and Dr. Vincent Y. Bowditch, Boston, all nationally known figures in the work of fighting tuberculosis.

board of education tentatively fixes a rate of 89 cents on the $100 to support all other departments of city service and government, making a total suggested tax rate of $1.89 instead of $1.50 as at present. Mr. Gaines made it plain that many board members thought the other departments could be maintained on 75 cents instead of 89 cents tax rate.

President John T. Hancock, D. M. Therrell and other board members urged the plan. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, of the Christian council; Louis Marquardt, of the Atlanta Federation of Trades; Councilman T. Allen Couch; Houston John, H. A. Etheridge and others supported the plan.

the six attorneys who compose his counsel. Langley was paid big sums for his influence in securing permits, the alleged former associates of the congressman testified. When he needed money he appealed to men in Washington who worked in conjunction with whisky dealers in this state, and the money was given as "loans" not to be repaid if the congressman was successful in any particular piece of work, according to testimony.

Politics was a big factor in the arrangements, witnesses testified. United States District Attorney Sawyer A. Smith directed special effort towards revealing what took place at the "conferences" in Lexington and Louisville. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general at Washington, assisted. Canceled bank checks were produced, with pages from hotel registers more than three years old.

Three Star Witnesses Heard.
Three of the government's star witnesses were used today. Thomas J. Finn, Columbus, Ohio, and formerly a partner of M. E. Huth, Alliance, Ohio, and Walter E. Carey, Canton, Ohio, the two defendants with Langley, was the first. Finn told of his partnership with Huth and Carey and of the purchase of the Belle of Anderson Distillery by the three. The purchase was to remain in effect only until all whisky then on hand was disposed of. The partners sold the whisky without inquiry of buyers at from $40 to $70 per case, Finn testified. He did not know whether any of it was sold for medicinal purposes.

Finn, Huth and Carey bought a whisky permit for $30,000 from Milton Lipschultz, then a clerk in the federal prohibition office at Philadelphia and now one of the defendants, Finn said.

REPUBLICANS PLAN LAST-DITCH FIGHT

out, and predicted that the house insurgents, who switched over at the last moment and made the surer compromise in the house possible, would swing back and vote for the 40 per cent rate when the conference report was presented to them.

Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, insurgent republican, who is closely in touch with the house insurgents, forecast the same result when the conference report is presented. Senate insurgents were displeased when their colleagues switched over before, and it is understood that pressure will be brought to bear to swing them back into line for the higher rate.

Put Screws to Conference.
Brookhart said he did not intend to compromise, even if concessions on agricultural measures were offered. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, leader of the insurgents in the absence of La Follette, declined to go to the republican conference Wednesday, though a special invitation had been extended to the insurgent group, all of whom had absented themselves from the first republican caucus Tuesday.

Republicans have not given up hope. The votes of two or three members who were absent when the first test vote was taken the other day, they point out, may swing the tide on the surtax rates, which was adopted by a bare margin of three votes. They are also hopeful that pressure on the conferees may be successful in inserting the house rate.

Hope for Vote Saturday.
Insurgents are going beyond the democrats in their tax fight. Brookhart said Wednesday that he will offer a gift tax amendment, which was inserted by the house and rejected by the senate committee. Senator Simmons said he did not look for its acceptance by the senate, however, and predicted the house amendment would be struck out of the bill in conference.

It is hoped the bill will be completed in time for a vote Saturday. Democratic-insurgent forces combined again to humiliate regular republican leaders at the night session when they forced the passage of the Jones amendment by a vote of 43 against 32. It was a party measure, receiving unanimous support of the democrats, who were joined by the republican insurgents.

The amendment, which takes the place of a flat corporation tax of 14 per cent, provides a tax of nine per cent on all corporation earnings, and a graduated tax applying to percentages on undistributed earnings starting at 1-4 of 1 per cent and running up to 40 per cent. The graduated taxes apply only on undistributed earnings which are greater than 10 per cent of the so-called surplus income.

Inheritance Tax Adopted.
Democrats won another victory when the amendment of Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, changing the estate tax to an inheritance tax and altering the rate structure, was adopted without a record vote.

Under this amendment the beneficiary instead of the estate is taxed. It fixes a graduated schedule, from one per cent on $25,000 to 36 per cent on $5,000,000 and above. Near relatives are allowed greater exemptions by the amendment than distant relatives. The senate recessed after the adoption of this amendment, and will take up gift taxes Thursday.

FOURTH OF ALLEGED STAMP BANDITS TAKEN

The last, police say, of the quartet of bandits who bound and gagged the night watchman at Foote & Davies printing plant, on Capitol avenue, and took approximately $20,000 worth of state revenue stamps, was caught single-handed Thursday morning by Detective W. D. McGee.

mond Sisson, his age as 23 years, but refused to give any home address. Other members of the alleged bandits are Frank Hinton, 19, Courtland street; H. J. Culpepper, 20, 88 Oak Grove avenue; and J. M. Sprattlin, 21, 409 Griffin street.

Sisson, who, according to police, had declared he would never be taken alive, was captured as he entered the grocery store of a negro on Marietta street, near Inman yards.

When searched by Officer McGee, a large .45 automatic and a "billy" were taken from his pockets, the officer stated. Sisson is quoted by McGee as having declared that, had there been 10 feet between himself and the officer as he entered the store, "some powder would have burned before his surrender."

When Night Watchman B. F. Nicholson, of the Foote & Davies plant, was brought to the station house to identify the alleged robbers, following Sisson's capture, Nicholson patrolled them on the back and quoted their language to him the night of the robbery—"It's hell to be a night watchman, ain't it?"

Besides the four accused of actual participation in the holdup, three others are at liberty under bond in connection with the sale and possession of some of the stamps. They are George Smith, 33, 201 Central avenue; L. J. Elrod, 36, 751 North Ashby street, and George Kanny, 38, 181 Luckie street.

Sure All Are Arrested.
Captain A. J. Holcombe, of the plainclothes department, and former Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole, who have been directing the investigation, Wednesday afternoon expressed themselves as satisfied that all who had any hand in the robbery or the subsequent disposal of stamps had now been apprehended.

Cable - The Telephone Service Highway

ONE of the chief items used in telephone construction work, and required in large quantities is telephone cable.

Not only is cable costly, but it is difficult to secure promptly and in great volume because the requirements of the telephone companies throughout the nation exceed the capacity of the manufacturers.

The Southern Bell Company has been promised sixty-six carloads of cable of various sizes for delivery during the year 1924.

It will cost about $1,338,000.

Georgia's share of this cable supply during this year is sixteen carloads, and it will cost about $409,000.

After the cable is delivered, it must be constructed by trained workers and then spliced and put in service by men of experience who are skilled in this delicate work.

CHRISTIAN INDEX FEATURES BAPTIST CONVENTION HERE

The Christian Index has just issued its annual Southern Baptist convention number, featuring the approaching session of the convention in Atlanta, May 14-19. This issue of the Index is a beautiful specimen of magazine work, carrying a cover in four colors of the Confederate memorial on Stone mountain.

The reading matter covers 96 pages and presents the story of the work of Southern Baptists. There are special stories dealing with the work of the home mission board in Atlanta, the foreign mission board in Richmond, the Sunday school board in Nashville, the relief and annuity board in Dallas, the education board in Birmingham, the Southern Baptist Theological seminary in Louisville, the Southwestern seminary in Fort Worth, the Woman's Missionary union in Birmingham, and other stories of a distinctly convention nature.

There are stories dealing with Georgia institutions. President Weaver writes about Mercer university; President Chamblee, about Bessie Tift college; President Blocker, about Shorter college; W. P. Anderson, about the Baptist Orphans' home; Dr. B. D. Ragsdale, about the Georgia Baptist convention, and Dr. Arch C. Cree writes about the Georgia Baptist hospital.

A large additional number of this special issue will be printed for distribution at the convention next week.

SHOWERS DUE TODAY

Temperature Now Ranging Between 85 and 90.

Showers are on tap for Atlanta today, according to the local office of the U. S. weather bureau. They are apt to be of the thunder-shower variety, accompanied by more or less electrical disturbance.

Temperatures for the past several days have been ranging from 85 to 90 in the afternoon, giving Atlanta her first real taste of summer weather for the year. No change is seen for next few days.

AGED VETERAN IS DEAD

Funeral Services for J. W. Rogers Held Today.

Funeral services for James W. Rogers, 78, a Confederate veteran, who died Wednesday morning at the residence on North Decatur road, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Houston's chapel, with Rev. J. H. Patton officiating. Interment will be in Decatur cemetery, with A. S. Turner in charge.

Mr. Rogers, who was a prominent planter, suffered a paralytic stroke a year ago, from which he never recovered. He served in the Thirty-eighth Georgia regiment during the last two years of the Civil war. Mr. Rogers is survived by his widow and a son, W. H. Rogers.

COMMITTEE PROBES HOSPITAL CONDUCT AT SOLDIERS HOME

At a meeting of trustees of the Old Soldiers' home, held in April, a special committee was appointed to investigate rumors which had been heard regarding the management of the hospital.

This committee held its first meeting in the office of the state pension department on May 5 and at that time received the complaints. These are to be referred to the trustees for further action at the next meeting of the board, which will take place prior to the convening of the general assembly in June.

LAST OF JOHNSON.

The political surprise of the year —and indeed of the decade—is the loss of power, once wielded with unchallenged force, by Senator Hiram

Johnson among his own people in California. In 1910, when he was first elected governor on a highly progressive platform, taking issue against what he termed as reactionary interests, he swept the state like a cyclone. In 1914 he was reelected by even a larger majority, on the hypothesis that he was in the midst of his program and needed another term to complete it. He did not finish this term, however, but was elected to the senate in 1916. In the meantime he had become the western leader of the Roosevelt progressive ideas, and continued the popular idol of his party along the Pacific coast.

In 1920 when he announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for president his great power in California had already begun to wane. Instead of being constructively progressive, he had let personal popularity perhaps sway his better judgment, and he had become radically destructive. He led the fight against the ratification of the treaty of Versailles, becoming leader of the group of irreconcilables that defeated that treaty and brought upon the country an economic reaction that brought agriculture to its knees, and touched every trade and industry.

It was easily observed at the Chicago convention that his great power had left him, and yet he went into the convention with the strong backing of his own state of California, which he has now apparently lost to President Coolidge, who misakiab, and that is that in this era of post-war reconstruction the people are not willing to accept radicalism, or a platform of destructive "isms," upon which politicians too often feed in inciting the prejudices and the passions of thoughtless voters.

There never has been a day in which the upstanding, conservative thought of the country, for safety and saneness as against the lurid promises of rainbow politicians, has so completely asserted itself—certainly in the republican party—as at the present.

"CONFUSING THE ISSUE."

Under the caption "confusing the issue," The Macon Telegraph very aptly strikes at the crux of a great deal of recent discussion, pro and con, as to the rules of the state committee by which state primaries are called and conventions held. It says:

"A few of the newspaper editors seem to have become confused in mind as regards the points at issue in connection with the recent state democratic convention in Atlanta. One of them complains that somebody is trying to 'tear up the game and change the rules in the middle of the contest.' It says that the Underwood folks, having made the rules for the presidential primary, now are kicking because the McAdoo people are carrying them out.

"No one who knows the facts could be sincere in making a statement like that.

"The rules were made and announced prior to the primary, and not having been overturned prior to the primary, they should be carried out. It is not amiss, however, to comment as to whether these rules should be employed in the future."

It matters not what faction in the democratic state committee, if there were two factions, was actually responsible for making the "rules" by which democracy was crucified in Georgia, the very fact that such rules were made and that such a "convention" as was held in Atlanta on April 23 was made possible under such rules is evidence sufficient that they should be changed for all time in the future and a prodigal party brought back to the house of the democratic fathers.

Unless something is done to safeguard the rights of the voters and by which the voice and the political liberties of the people will be protected, the primary system will be junked—as sad as that reflection may be to the lovers of true representative government.

It is not true that the "Underwood folks" or the "McAdoo folks" in the convention were responsible for the rules.

The fact is the state democratic committee as a whole, composed of more than a hundred and fifty men and women citizens of Georgia, and at which a majority was present at the time, was responsible. The rules were read and adopted by an overwhelming majority, there being less than a dozen dissenting voices.

The outstanding fact is that they were adopted, adhered to and a disgraceful and thoroughly undemocratic situation resulted which will long remain a stigma upon the state of Georgia and its political history.

The obligation of Georgia democracy today is to see that the primary laws are amended at the forthcoming legislature so that the voice and rights of the people shall not be stifled again by any committee-made rules, or by any cabal or group that would fatten a political autocracy upon the people.

The county committees respectively have a right to choose the delegates to a state convention from among the friends and supporters of the candidate getting the unit votes of the respective counties, thereby assuring not only full county autonomy, but a legal representation of the minority in any convention.

There are several amendments to be proposed to the primary law this summer, one of which will seek to unify the county elections in presidential years, another to take the preferential presidential primary into the state's legally authorized primary system, and another and no less important to protect the people of each county from an abrogation of their rights in the selection of state convention delegates, as was done under the rules that were adopted by the state committee in January.

By all means these amendments should be enacted, and Georgia should once again get back into the full faith of Jeffersonian democracy, which means first of all local self government, or a menace to the welfare of the state in every forward-looking way will threaten the peace and happiness of our people.

April acted as if we were expected to order a canoe and paddle to the picnic.

Too many spring gardeners neglecting their opportunities by running for office.

Talking about soft snaps, the Indianapolis News has observed "three bosses running a gang of nine city street cleaners."

And, too, the senate doesn't think it's a bit wrong to tax the patience of the people.

Even the little, but progressive, towns are having their bobbed-hair bandits.

An "it will be" good morning

When you say, "goodbye!"

II. And Joy is waiting

At a door of Light,

Fast from the shadows

Of the ghosts of Night.

And we'll hear the music

Of the Morning bright!

III. The Rules of a Writer.

An exchange says that in the "autobiography of Anthony Trollope," of which there is a recent reprint, appears an account of that prolific writer's method: "According to the circumstances of the time—whether my other business might be then heavy or light, or whether the book which I was writing was or was not wanted with speed—I have allotted myself so many pages a week. The average number has been about 40. It has been placed as low as 20, and has risen to 112. And, as a page is an ambiguous term, my page has been made to contain 200 words; and, as words, if not watched, will have a tendency to straggle, I have had every word counted as I went. . . . There have been even the record before a week and a week passed with an insufficient number of pages has been a blither to my eye, and a month so disgraced would have been a sorrow to my heart."

IV. Billville Briefs.

We believe in forest preservation.

Cutting trees down is too much like work.

"The sleepy season for the folks who were born tired, and they're a poor company, no one wants to wake 'em up."

Meredith Nicholson is running for Indiana, legislature, and he all ways gets what he goes after.

He has so much idle time left after he writes a couple of novels a year.

V. The Rosy Way.

Going along

On the flowery ways,

We live in the light

Of the wonderful days

When the world hears you whistling

On the way it wants to journey

With you, but when you're singing, it takes the other side of the road.

VI. We'll Hope So.

When we are done

With the pleasures of living,

Heaven is won,

And the Lord is forgiving.

Old Georgia's prosperous and happy

And brighter days than ever beckoning on.

VII. The Happy Season.

Lots of cause for thankfulness—

Lots of joy in sight;

Fish in every river—

An' bait to make 'em bite.

When happiness is only a dream,

And we just have time to dream, we'll manage to pull through. The trouble with the dream-masters of life wake us up too soon in the morning.

VIII. That's the Question.

Here is de message for you—

Hard on de head it may hit you;

If you give de devil his due,

Ain't you afraid he will git you?

IX. "Nother Spring Item.

Rest for the growlers is at hand,

For here is Thunder to rumble and grumble

For them, storming around till lightning has to leave home!

X. Dear George: Honest Intin

In one I must better. It's called "Theoretically, Honesty Is the Best Policy."

Upon her clear face, honesty

Beams fearless, frank avowals,

And her eyes, as you should see

The stack of Pullman towels.

Jennie Speare.—Can you remember

The rest of the poem starting with "The saddest words in a tongue or pen."

Dear Jen—Our memory system is in good for, instance:

The saddest words of tongue or pen are "I'm sick of you" and "I'm

Will ever be, have always been."

"You're getting stouter, ain't you dear?"

XI. Odds and Ends.

Ted: "Think of a number and I'll tell you whether it is odd or even."

Ned: "Alright. I just called the number on the phone. Which number was it?"

Ted: "Did you get her?"

Ned: "Yes."

Ted: "Right away?"

Ned: "It was entitled."

Ted: "That's odd."

—D. M. Marsh.

XII. The sweetest of an old Dorado,

Kansas gave me leaving town for a considerable length of time. Thinking to put him in a romantic mood

before she left, she bought a sentimental record to play for him on her phonograph. It was entitled, "I'll be there when you get back."

Imagine her dismay when she heard the whole record, in the presence of her admirer, and the words of a popular soprano rang out so clearly, "I'll be there when you get back, but I'll be with somebody else."

—Clad H. Tompson.

XIII. Georgiagraphs

Georgia has a church a hundred miles inland, the land of which was granted by King George II, and the original buildings are as companion timbers and wrought nails are concerned—is still intact.

Georgia shipped from Butts county

sweet potatoes this spring to Bermuda.

Georgia has 300 more persons committed to the state sanitarium this past year than in 1922, reports that institution.

Georgia is utilizing the motion picture to effect better farming. Several counties have films of their own farm work—and are showing them;

while many others have general agricultural picture shows exhibiting in school houses and halls all over the rural region.

Georgia has nearly 12,000 boys now enrolled for this year's work in the various organized boys' agricultural clubs under direction of the state college.

Georgia negro schools will soon obtain about $200,000 from the Rosenwald fund, left by a Chicagoan for this purpose.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

The Long, Long Trail.

As winter's last snow was melting and the soft breezes from another world broke the fetters of the sub-arctic regions, Jack Munsey, old-time sourdough, started off on the trail from which there is no returning. On the gaunt shores of the Night Hawk lake stands the desolate cabin, but no longer does the blue smoke curl upward, inviting the traveler to Jack's bannock and bacon. Munsey

the first white man to discover gold in the rich Porcupine region. He heard the "mule-wide mutterings of unimagined riches," and like Kipling's

"Explorer" he could say: "God took me to hide the country, and he judged His people ready. Anybody might have found it—but His wisdom came to me." Like in all his staple of Jack's type is not called a pioneer. There were other pioneers who followed his trail and tracked him by "the camps he had quitted and the water holes he followed." But they were called the pioneers. But he was the first there. He had the hunch and followed it up. This writer recalls his first winter on this continent spent in Jack's cabin, when the eerie stillness on the top of the world was often broke by the crash

of a bullmoose or the explosive bang

Mrs. T. T. Williams Wins Feature Match in Women's Golf Play at Brookhaven

BY MRS. CLARENCE BRADLEY.

The first round of match play in the tournament of the Atlanta Women's Golf Association is sponsoring at the Brookhaven Country club, got under way yesterday morning. The feature match of the day was between Mrs. T. T. Williams and Mrs. W. A. Dupree, of Marietta, Ga.

Mrs. Williams was conceding Mrs. Dupree ten strokes and the match went to the eighteenth green, Mrs. Williams winning two up. The first hole was won by Mrs. Williams with a five. Both players got into trouble on No. 2 and halved with a pair of sixes. Mrs. Williams won the third hole with a par four. Mrs. Dupree taking five. Mrs. Williams won the fourth with a par five and also won the fifth with a five. The sixth was halved, both getting down with fours. Mrs. Dupree's stroke gave her a halve on the seventh, the eighth was halved with two par fours, and on the long ninth Mrs. Dupree's stroke helped to halve with Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Williams card in was 45 while Mrs. Dupree's card was 52 with Mrs. Williams four up at the turn. No. 10 was halved with fours. Mrs. Dupree's stroke gave her a halve on the eleventh and Mrs. Williams the twelfth with a par three. Mrs. Williams taking four. Mrs. Williams went four up again on the thirteenth hole when the hole out a long putt for a par four. Mrs. Dupree's stroke failed to help on this hole.

The fourteenth was halved with five. Then Mrs. Dupree rallied and won the fifteenth with a par three and also won the sixteenth and seventeenth, the stroke giving her the two last named holes. Mrs. Dupree had a stroke on the eighteenth but it failed to help her. Mrs. Williams getting down with a six. Mrs. Dupree took an eight and lost the match two up. Mrs. Williams' card in was 45, giving her an even 1000, just ten strokes over Mrs. Williams and the same number of strokes conceded by Mrs. Williams.

Carpenter Sails For United States

Paris, May 7.—After a thousand promises to sail for the United States at various times since he was knocked out by Jack Dempsey in 1921, Georges Carpentier actually walked the plank and cast off for these profitable shores Wednesday to fight Tom Gibbons at Michigan City on May 31.

Douglas Fairbanks took a last look at Carpentier's countenance at the railroad station and also examined his hands to see what shape his knuckles had taken after his fight with Dempsey. Carpentier's mitts were ready for strife.

Carpentier issued the customary flub-dub about his affection for American sportsmen, who he was leaving for his training camp at Manhasset, Long Island, three years ago. He was accompanied by Francois Deschamps, his manager, and two others.

King George Sees His Horse Beaten

Newmarket, England, May 7.—King George, of England, who has notoriously bad luck on the turf, saw another of his horses beaten Wednesday in the annual running of the 2,000 guinea race, an event that brought out 20 of the leading nominees for the Epsom derby in a sort of elimination contest. It was won by Diophan, owned by the Moslem prince, Aga Khan, with just a nose to spare. Bright Knight, owned by Lord Astor, the former American, was second. Green Fire was third and Tom Pinch was fourth. The king's horse, Knight of the Garter, ran a courageous race and showed some promise of improving sufficiently to make a fight for the money in the derby.

The result of the Guineas, which actually was a $25,000 race, generally followed the lines of the reputations which the contesting horses established in 1923 as two year olds. It would seem that Aga Khan has nominated Muntaz Mahal, in addition to Diophan, and the former, which did not run in the Guineas, is said to be a better steed than Diophan.

Outsider Wins Jamaica Event

New York, May 7.—Wild Aster, an outsider, sprang a surprise today by winning the Spring handicap, a six-furlong dash, for three-year-olds at Jamaica track from a field including several outstanding Kentucky derbies.

The Ranocosa stable's Braciale, conqueror of Sarazen, and the favorite, finished second, and carrying the Greenlee stable's colors, won by half a length after leading all the way. Braciale was five lengths in front of his stable mate Teeter. Time, 1:11.5.

Friday morning semi-finals in all matches will be played. At 1:30

Sally League

THEY CAN'T WIN.

Macron, Ga. May 7.—Sullivan's wildness and the visitors' ability to hit in the pinches was responsible for Asheville's 8 to 3 victory over Macon this afternoon. The game was started early to enable Asheville to catch a train for Charlotte.

In the fifth inning with two men on McCrone lifted the ball over the fence for a home run.

Asheville took the lead in the opening inning and was never in danger.

Catcher Lazo, playing in right field, while Sullivan was on the mound, dropped Brummitt's high fly in the last inning. Asheville got two hits in the eighth inning, one a two-logger, netting three runs.

AUGUSTA STILL WINNING.

Spartanburg, S. C., May 7.—The Augusta Tigers made it three straight over the Spartans this afternoon by winning 4 to 1. The game was called after the eighth inning on account of rain. A steady drizzle that started in the fifth frame delayed the game 20 minutes in the seventh inning.

Failure to hit in the pinches again cost the Spartans the game, nine men pitched on the path. Augusta bunched hits in the fourth inning for two runs. The Spartans' counter came from two walks and two sacrifices.

Both pitchers were wild and only excellent supple arms of runs from being piled up by both teams.

Mike Roman, who broke a bone in his hand yesterday, watched the game from the grand stand.

HORNETS BEAT SPINNERS.

Charlotte, N. C., May 7.—The Hornets defeated the Spinnars for the third straight game here today, winning 10 to 3 in a slugfest which gave away an exhibition of baseball on several occasions. Once with two men on base, the Hornets bunched hits and tried to catch the runner at the plate. He had an easy chance at first to retire to the dugout. The man scored and the other man reached second.

Again he threw wild at third when he had plenty of time and a man scored. The error was not enough to save him from defeat. He was battered around the lot hard.

Shay and Tolson had home runs as the heavy hitting feature of the game. Carter hit one for three bases. The fielding of None and Carlie was sensational.

Single by "Boss" Niehoff In Eighth Inning Accounts For Margin of Crackers' Win

BY HENRY ALLEN.

The Crackers fans who made up a nice mid-week crowd at Spiller's field yesterday, witnessed what was really the first thrilling game of the season, when the Crackers trounced the Barons by a 5 to 4 score, taking the series.

Besides seeing the Crackers win by whirlwind finish and hold the Barons by sensational fielding in the ninth, they watched George Dumont pitch a good game until he strained a ligament in his arm which may prove serious before the season is over.

George, who was going along at a nice clip for the four and two-thirds innings that he worked, was forced to retire while pitching to Gansel in the fifth inning because of the injury to his arm. He was sent to a doctor who pronounced the ailment as a serious sprain and the Crackers may be without his services for some time.

Niehoff Scores Run.

Bertram Niehoff, the boss of the Crackers' outfit, can be boosted as the hero of the struggle, with a single in the eighth inning which scored Ben Paschal, who was on second. The count was knotted in the eighth when Paschal was hit by Olsen. He later stole second and raced home on Bertram's safe knock.

But the Barons threatened in their part of the ninth and it looked as though the Crackers might have to go into extra innings. Knud, doubled and was resting safely on second, with two down, when Howard Camp lined a hard one to Francis, who managed to snag the ball and also the game for himself.

The affair yesterday was about the first real contest that the Crackers fans have witnessed this year. All of the other games have been one-sided or there was something else to mar the festivities.

While picking out the stars of the contest, the fielding game can't be overlooked. Once the Barons' fly-chaser "way back into left center to pull down what looked to be a sure triple of Paschal. Then he raced back to the left field stands to snag Smith's hit, which would have gone for the circuit.

Weather Conditions Vary In Cotton Producing Belt

Washington, May 7.—Crop and weather conditions in southern states during the week ending yesterday were summarized Wednesday by the department of agriculture as follows:

It was rather too cool for the best growth of cotton in most of the south, although temperatures were more favorable in the Atlantic coast districts. Rain for the first part of the week retarded the field work in central and eastern portions of the belt, but proving, but most trees below average condition; other fruit doing well. Cotton planting finished some areas, but progressing slowly in north. Stands in south irregular, varying from poor to very good; chopping progressing in south, but coming up slowly north.

MISSISSIPPI: Cotton and corn planting made fair progress with general improvement in the cotton crop. On central account some inferior seed. Progress of gardens, pastures and truck good to fair; needing rain in otherwise conditions were favorable for planting, replanting and cultivating in Oklahoma, except in the Texas because of the cool nights, and stands are irregular in central and northern portions of the state, due to recent unfavorable weather for germination; the general condition of the corn is fair. Cotton shows fair to good stands in Oklahoma, and planting was under way in all sections. This work has been completed in most parts of Arkansas and the cotton stands are irregular, stands ranging from poor to very good. It was mostly favorable for cotton in Louisiana, except that the nights were rather too cool, and the weather was not so good in some places, where planting was delayed by rain and warmer weather was needed. Conditions were favorable in Mississippi and Alabama, though there were some poor stands in the germination in Mississippi, with irregular stands in Alabama. In Georgia planting was further delayed in the northern portion, but was mostly favorable, though growth was slow with much replanting.

TEXAS: Work favorable for field work, but growth of vegetation rather slow. Condition of ranges, truck and pasture, fair to good, but mostly good; pasture, only fair. Cotton planting and cultivating making excellent progress, with chopping out progressing in south and squares forming in early stages in the lower section. Stands irregular in central and north due to trusted soil and unfavorable germination. Condition and progress of crop as a whole, fair to good. Corn in the hills ranges greening rapidly and livestock improved.

ARKANSAS: Cotton planting made poor progress first of week due to cold weather, but the second portion; nearly completed, except in north. Stands poor in many localities due to cold and wet soil, overflows, and packed ground, but very good in some places. Condition usually very good. Progress and condition of corn very good in nearly all portions. Very favorable for small grains, meadows, pastures, truck and fruit and nut crops.

TENNESSEE: Warmth and sun-

ing. Crops were generally good in South Carolina and favorable reports were received from North Carolina, though moisture was needed for germination in some sections. Flaxing was well under way in Virginia.

Corn planting made excellent progress in the Atlantic area from Virginia southward, with early corn at a shine needed. Progress of cotton planting slow; too cool for satisfactory germination. Corn planting and cultivation hurried, but fairly well advanced. Germination good. Progress of winter wheat fair to good; condition poor to fair. Potatoes doing well.

good stand. Early corn did fairly well in southern states, though growth was slow in west gulf districts. Planting has advanced in Missouri northward to the Missouri river.

Conditions affecting potato crops were favorable in eastern Maryland and Virginia where the crop is reported as in good condition and the crop did well in the south. Truck advanced satisfactorily in south Atlantic states and progressed fairly well in the central and west gulf areas. The nights continued too cool.

Conditions in the east were generally favorable for fruit, but local storms in Georgia caused some damage to orchards.

CONDITIONS BY STATES.
NORTH CAROLINA: Few reports of local storm damage. Weather conditions generally favorable and planting of cotton made excellent progress; nearly completed on

SOUTH CAROLINA: Much loss

Weekly Statement
Bank of Germany

GEORGIA: Severe local storms caused much damage to city property, but little to crops, except locally to orchards. Planting cotton and corn very backward in north, elsewhere better progress; growth slow and much replanting and chopping of cotton proceeding and stands somewhat uncertain. ## One Year To Live

BY JOHN HUNTER

Elise admitted that she was. She did not like this treacherous amiability. "The reason I asked you to call," continued Brunel, "is because I can make your fortune."

She stared at him, thinking for a moment that he was mad, but realizing immediately that Brunel was not the type to be afflicted with insanity. "I don't understand, monsieur," she said at last.

"No? And you dance as I saw you dance at my house? Don't you realize that you are wasting your time in a dressing room?" She hardly dared attempt to grasp his meaning, so incredible was it. He added: "I have made many dancers—I, Brunel. And I know a dancer when I see one. You think this is all ridiculous?" For Elise's bewilderment was plainly written in her expression. "I regard Lolette," I made her. You look at her ears, her jewels and her gowns. You see her with the world at her feet, wealthy, famous, her name on everybody's lips; and she seems idle as a butterfly in the stars, beyond your reach. Yet I can remember the time when she sat opposite me—opposite Brunel—at just such a desk as this and said she was willing to do her best if I only would help her."

Lolette, the premiere danseuse! This man spoke of Lolette, and drew a parallel with herself! Elise felt that her sense were reeling.

She strove to be calm, and smiled quickly and nervously. Her hands were plucking at the vanity bag on her knees. If all this was true it meant wealth. Her imagination was rearing a structure of ivory towers, reaching to the sky. Marthe would be safe forever. She might even be cured, for the best of medical advice could be given to her. There would at least be sunshine and rest for the remainder of her life, attention and luxury and all the comforts money could purchase.

Doctor Lapierre would be paid in full and over for the service he had rendered. All this Elise thought swiftly, tumultuously, while yet she tried to grasp the treasure that was offered her. Brunel's proposition. She heard Brunel speaking again.

"You like the idea? It appeals to you?" "Monsieur—I don't know how to thank you. Despite her efforts at self-control, her agitation was plainly visible. "It is a thing of which I never dreamed. You see—when I danced—it was only fun. I never thought that there could ever be anything in it."

Brunel nodded. "It is just the little thought—and the opportunity." Somehow, she felt he was measuring her with his eyes, but she hardly heeded it.

She was acquiescing with vast excitement, her heart lifted with happiness. She felt as though the gates of fortune had been flung wide for her, and in this first golden vision of opportunity she was blind to any possibility of failure, realizing that in her heart of hearts she had always lured and beckoned to her, so that now she went gladly in answer to its call.

"The opportunity," repeated Brunel softly. "It is you who are providing that, monsieur, and I cannot express my gratitude." She could only reiterate her thanks. She felt she had time to think, to get hold of the miracle of it all, to look about her and find her footing. She had, in those moments, no definite vision of the future, not the faintest idea that she would ever rival Lolette; but only a hazy perspective of the riches Brunel had mentioned, and, as a song in her heart, the assurance that the dramatic old days must slip from her like a cloak loosened about her shoulders.

Brunel was still measuring her, and now his eyes were fixed on her cheeks, born of her excitement, had come a little touch of elusive color, pink merging to marble whiteness, and her eyes were stars, so that she was filled with radiant life, adorable, alluring. Brunel told himself that even Mordac had never fully appreciated the beauty of this girl, and Mordac had had an eye for those things which were second to none in Paris. He trod carefully.

"As you say, I provide the opportunity. But it is only for those who understand me, whom I understand—who are willing to work with me and for me—well."

"Of course, monsieur." She was eager in almost a childish fashion, simply reassuring. "I know that. But I will work, and I will try to understand. I will do my best, all my best, always. That will be only due to you, for your kindness."

The pity of this declaration passed Brunel by. He was thinking only of her beauty.

"So! Now Lolette and I are good friends. We always have been—from the first. Lolette is one who sees her opportunities and grasps them with both hands. She is a clever, shrewd woman, as well as a great artist. She realizes that there are certain things which one must accept in life; that good friendship is a thing which tacitly admits of the existence of the complete confidence and trust."

"Of course, monsieur," Elise, slightly cooled now, with her brain steady, wondered why Brunel thought it necessary to point all this out.

"Now you are not only clever, but you are beautiful—more beautiful than any woman I have ever known." Into Brunel's voice had crept a tremor of intense passion, unexpressed. "In your hands I can place riches beyond even those of Lolette. I can set your name above the names of all of them. I can bring the world to your feet."

He leaned forward still further, as though to reach across the desk and clasp her. "Only—there must be understanding and friendship. Is it clear?"

She stared quite still for an appreciable space, staring straight into his eyes; and as she stared she slowly grasped the enormity of the thing he hinted at, and which he had not yet intended to propose definitely, but which the sight of her beauty had drawn from him. She saw the mark of the beast slumbering in his glowing eyes.

Her breath came in shuddering, long. The bloom died from her cheeks, leaving them blanched and cold. Her eyes were wide and stricken.

"Monsieur!" It was protesting, an outcry against the fact that this thing should be; that Brunel could not lend a hand, could not be content to help and advise—without payment over and above the money which must accrue to him from any success she achieved.

"Wish beyond those of Lolette," repeated Brunel softly. "Beyond your dreams."

She stood up. It was quick, startling. Almost did it seem as though she would put her hands before her face to shut out the sight of something evil.

"I will not listen!" she panted. "I will not listen. That you could imagine that ever I should agree! That you should insult me so!"

She turned towards the door, and Brunel quickly on his feet, hurried round the desk and held the door open to her. He was quite cool and undisturbed.

"This is rather precipitant," he said gently. "You realize exactly what this quibble is costing you?"

"Let me go—please let me go!" He stood to one side, and she blundered past him and vanished down the corridor.

Outside on the pavement she stood humbly, dazed, filled with chaotic emotions, her throat cast in her eyes. The hopes of the past few minutes were dashed to dust about her feet. The reality of it all had stunned her. She had been, that morning, taken to the top of a high mountain and shown all the kingdom of the earth and heaven, and she had turned a deaf ear to the voice of the tempter.

She began to walk home, unconscious of her position or vicinity, stricken and weakened.

When she reached the garret above the Rue Jacques she fell on her knees beside Marthe's bed, and Marthe stroked her hair while she cried.

CHAPTER XI. Elise would have given up her job at the theater after her interview with Brunel, but for one thing; the knowledge that while she was there she could meet Kendrick. Indeed, in Kendrick lay her only hope. She clung to his memory as a drowning woman might cling to a plank carried to her across the waves. She could not conceive what life had been like before he came; she dared not think what life might be if he went away. He filled her thoughts and her dreams, her life. He was the beginning and the end of everything—because he had kissed her hand and spoken of friendship for her.

Perhaps, in other circumstances, she would not have given so much of herself to his memory; but now she was harassed and ashamed, face to face with evil, sustaining unseen pressure from those who would cast her down. Always at the theater she was meeting Brunel. He never mentioned his interview with her; he never again asked her if she wished to dance. From his ignoring of her the whole episode might have been a chimera evolved in her own overwrought brain. Yet she knew that the invitation was still open. She knew that Brunel but stood aside to watch—and wait.

Lolette's attitude was curious. Sometimes, when she feared that Elise had definitely made up her mind to resist Brunel's arguments—for Lolette had no definite information concerning the affair and could only guess what had occurred—she was more vicious and spiteful than ever before; and then, hoping that Elise might succumb at last, and realizing that her surrender would only come because she was in constant contact with Brunel by reason of her remaining at the theater, she would be kind and generous, as with still that hint of malevolence lurking in her sweetness.

POOR LITTLE CHESTER MISSES HIS DEAR DADDY—MAMA ALWAYS SAYS "PAPA WILL BE HOME TOMORROW"—BUT TOMORROW NEVER COMES—ONLY SIXTEEN DAYS SINCE HIS MAMA TOOK HIM TO SEE GRANDMA—BUT IT SEEMS LIKE SIXTEEN LONG, WEARY YEARS—WHERE WILL IT END

I TELL YOU, MY DEAR, THIS IS GETTING SERIOUS—

BUT MOTHER—WHAT CAN I DO? SURELY YOU CAN'T WANT ME TO APOLOGIZE FOR SOMETHING I WAS NOT TO BLAME FOR—

WELL, YOU KNOW, MY DEAR, TO ERR IS HUMAN, TO FORGIVE DIVINE—AND AFTER ALL YOUR HUSBAND WAS ONLY HUMAN—HE HAD HIS FAULTS—WE ALL HAVE—BUT AS HUSBANDS GO HE WASN'T SO BAD—HE HAD A GOOD KIND HEART—

YES, HE HAD A KIND HEART—HE NEVER DENIED ME ANYTHING—AND HE ALWAYS WAS SO FOND OF ME—HE USED TO BRAG ABOUT HOW WE WERE JUST LIKE A COUPLE OF GOOD PALS—BUT WHY DOES HE IGNORE ME?

WELL, THERE ARE ALWAYS TWO SIDES TO EVERY QUESTION—YOU KNOW A WOMAN HAS TO FORGIVE A LOT FROM A MAN—THEY SAY THINGS THEY DON'T MEAN—I KNOW IF ANYTHING HAPPENED TO HIM IT WOULD BREAK YOUR HEART—

the little dance at Brunel's frighten him?"

Elise, fastening the scanty morsel of lace and jewels at the back, listened trembling, and heard Mordac's answer as though a great bell had struck in the night's silence.

"Oh! He has gone. There was a cablegram. I don't know much about it. He went to Bagdad. Something to do with oil. My business with him fell through, and I haven't heard from him since."

For the rest of the evening Elise did her work as though she walked in a trance. She had known for days and days, that Kendrick must have left Paris; but the confirmation of her knowledge was nevertheless a blow more dreadful than she could realize.

She went home after the show and climbed the weary dark stairs to the garret. It was stiflingly hot, and the air pressed about her like a cloak. She opened the door and stumbled in. Her despair was a millstone set on her heart weighing it down.

She heard Marthe's voice, as from a great distance, faintly. "Elise! I can't sleep. Tell me a story."

"I'm tired, Marthe."

Marthe, her head moving in convulsive fright, heard the little rustle of her sister's skirt, heard the thud of her as she hit the worn carpet of the floor, and staring over the bedside, looked down at her white, wan face, its eyes black-ringed and sunken, Paris, but the confirmation of her knowledge was nevertheless a blow more dreadful than she could realize.

She went home after the show and climbed the weary dark stairs to the garret. It was stiflingly hot, and the

CHAPTER XII. Dr. Lapierre nodded. He was very quiet, still reserved and still thoughtful; only now in his eyes gleamed a little highlight, like a bright torch seen far off in the black night.

He had been brought in early in the morning by an old woman downstairs in the Rue Jacques, and he had Elise now with him in his surgery, whence he had driven her in a cab; for he had found her sitting fully dressed in a chair, she having recovered from her faint and dragged herself there, to remain still all through the remainder of the night, staring straight ahead, unmoving, not heeding Marthe's cries nor pleas.

It seemed strange that he should take Elise away with him, strange that he should not examine her and question her at her home; but the strangeness of it was overlooked and forgotten in the excitement. Perhaps, as the old woman observed afterwards, it was to spare Marthe, who was very frightened and suffering.

Elise watched him as he drew back, after that little nod, and laid his stethoscope carefully on the table. She had made up her mind to resist all efforts to persuade her to leave the theater, for she still clung desperately to the hope that Kendrick might remember and write her there.

She was, she knew, in that condition which is colloquially described as "run down." Dr. Lapierre would doubtless recommend a tonic and a rest, or a change of place. She would take the tonic and ignore the advice.

Lapierre, having walked across the room and back, suddenly stopped before her. His manner was restrained and nervous, and his eyes avoided hers.

"Elise," he said quietly, "you are very ill."

His subdued manner stirred her to some apprehension. She conceived that there might be more wrong with her than she had anticipated, for she had never seen him so grave, even when he had first examined Marthe after the accident.

She stood up, facing him. "What do you mean, doctor? There—there is nothing—wrong?"

He tapped the backs of the fingers of one hand on the palm of the other, a certain sign, she knew, that he was perturbed and nervous. "It is a difficult matter. You have nobody to whom I can talk in confidence—like a healthy, capable relative, who would look after you. In these cases ignorance always makes for the best chance of recovery. But—you have only Marthe, an—"

"Doctor! what do you mean?" She was close to him, staring into his eyes.

"Elise," he said gravely, "there is something very wrong. A little murmur, you will understand, which should not be. Such murmurs are dangerous. You will remember I stopped with the stethoscope and listened again and again?"

"Yes, doctor. She was white to the lips, but her eyes were very steady and brave. 'Please, don't talk all round it. Please, tell me the truth. Is it very serious? Am I in great danger?' I would rather know."

His breath came in deep, hesitant sobs in his eyes, vacillation, pity.

Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity Gives Dance at Golf Club

The first formal dance of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity of Marietta college assembled several hundred guests at the Druid Hills Golf club Wednesday evening.

The spacious ballroom was elaborately decorated with a profusion of cut flowers and college banners. Frozen punch was served from bowls placed on tables on the broad veranda.

Dance music was furnished by McCullough's Georgians, well-known orchestra.

A number of delightful cabaret stunts featured the intermission of the occasion.

A special dance was given by Miss Juliette Wimberly during the first intermission. One of the most interesting features was the skit and Hindu dance by Rajaraha, a native of India.

Grant Park P.-T. A. To Elect Officers.

On Friday, May 9, at 3 o'clock, Grant Park P.-T. A. will hold the last meeting of the school year. Professor Smith, principal of William A. Bass Junior High school, will make the address of the afternoon.

There will be reports of the year's work from each chairman of a committee. There will also be a report of the state P.-T. A. convention held at Savannah last week by the delegates.

The election of officers for the coming year will be held. All patrons are urged to be present.

The chaperons included Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Player, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Reed, Major E. R. E. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Prater, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tway, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holland.

The members of the active chapter include Charles Andrews, Frank Corrigan, Robert Davidson, William Ewing, William Farrell, Harry Holland, Lee Hutcheson, John Lambert, Pat Lynch, Paul Madden, Rowan Murphy, P. J. McCormack, Frank Player, Homer Prater, Nevil Reed, Addison Smith, Conril Smith, Dan Sutter, Curtis Taylor, Jack Tway, Max Williams and Roland Williams.

Mrs. McKenna Is Entertained.

Complimenting her guest, Mrs. William Joy McKenna, of Boston, and Prides Crossing, Mass.; Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell entertained on Wednesday at a lovely luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club. Covers were placed for 16 friends of the honor guest, who was formerly Miss Isoline Campbell, of Atlanta.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Glenville Giddings will be hostess at an afternoon tea at her home, "Pine Bloom," in Druid Hills.

Other parties are being planned for Mrs. McKenna.

Miss Clara Joel Continues To Be Feted Guest

Miss Clara Joel, the lovely guest of Mrs. U. T. Koch, continues to be feted at a round of informal parties.

Mrs. George M. Hope, Jr., will give a luncheon on Thursday at the Biltmore hotel, honoring Miss Joel.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd will entertain for her at dinner at their home on Twelfth street.

Mrs. J. A. Higgs, Jr., will be hostess at breakfast Friday morning at her home on Todd road, honoring Mrs. Koch's guest.

Mrs. Koch will entertain at dinner Friday evening at her home on Ruppel drive, inviting a small group of friends to meet Miss Joel.

On Saturday this attractive visitor will be one of the guests at the barbeque at which Hugh Howell will entertain at Verner's lodge for all Atlanta residents of Warrenton, Ga.

Miss Joel was the central figure of three interesting parties on Wednesday. Mrs. C. K. Dawson complimented her with a luncheon at the Biltmore hotel, inviting eight friends to meet her.

Mrs. W. L. Russell, Mrs. Capers Andrews and Miss Grace Freeman were joint hostesses at tea at the home of Mrs. Russell, Friday evening.

L. K. Rogers was host at a theater party at the Howard theater when he invited six friends to meet Miss Joel.

Interesting Programs To Feature Meeting of Alliance Francaise

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the Alliance Francaise will hold its regular meeting at the home of the president, Charles Lortidan, at 18 East Fifteenth street.

A very full and interesting program has been arranged for this meeting. A delightful play, "Le Papillon," a comedy in one act by Paul Billand and Jules Truffier will be read by the president, Charles Lortidan and the vice presidents, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton and Mrs. Walter Wellborn.

A committee on resolutions consisting of Mrs. Blatlie Slaton, Mrs. W. A. Edwards and Mrs. James E. Hickey will present resolutions on the passing of a beloved and brilliant member of the group, Miss America V. Woodberry.

A group of French songs will be contributed by Miss Natalie Hammond, Miss Nela Wellborn and Mrs. Joe Brown and Madame Laure Leclair, who has just recently come to make her home in America, will give some examples of French newspaper humor, taken from the Journal de Paris.

The membership of the Alliance Francaise is composed of a group of prominent French-speaking Atlantans and the meetings of the organization are delightful weekly social and cultural affairs.

The Y. M. C. A. auxiliary will be hostess to the special representatives of the church of Atlanta Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Central Y auditorium on Luckie street.

The regular business meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the conference room. At 4 o'clock a short program will be given by Atlanta's most charming artists. Miss Bess Merrill Smith will sing; Miss Mary Francis Coole will read, and three tiny tots from Miss Evelyn Donohoe's class, little Miss Susanne Keene, Sara Craig and Virginia Smith, will delight the audience with their specialties.

This program will add one more laurel wreath to Atlanta and "Music week." Receiving with Mrs. Norman Pool, the president, will be the officers and executive board of the Central Y. Mrs. Floyd Field of Georgia Tech auxiliary, Mrs. B. H. Johnson of Emory

Taylor-Hauseman Wedding Is Social Event in Brunswick

Brunswick, Ga., May 7.—A wedding in which much interest was centered, because of the popularity and prominence of the couple, was that of Miss Elizabeth Hazelhurst Taylor and Ernest Ogg Houseman, which was solemnized Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal church, Rev. J. W. Fulford performing the ceremony.

The wedding was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. St. Mark's church was profusely decorated for the occasion.

The bride was attended by Mrs. James E. Farquhar, of Greenville, S. C., as matron of honor, and by Miss Florence Maxey and Miss Clara Pyles as maids of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Fanny Welsh and Miss Anne Burnett, and the junior bridesmaids were little Misses Fenton Burroughs, Eleanor Stiles and Lauretta King.

Mr. Houseman's best man was Clyde A. Taylor, Jr., brother of the groom, and the groomsmen were Julian Bennett, Leighton Burroughs, Courtland Akin, Harry Parker, while Andrews Wright and James Gould were the ushers.

Mrs. Walter Oates sang during the ceremony, "To a Wild Rose," accompanied on the violin by Miss Marjorie Nightingale. Miss Elvera Torres officiated at the organ.

The dresses of the junior bridesmaids were of pale pink chiffon. The bridesmaids were gowned in Nile green chiffon, shirred at the waistline and with an ornament of gold on the side. They carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. The maids of honor wore dresses of peach chiffon, combined with shadow lace and they carried shower bouquets of sweet peas. The matron of honor's gown was of orchid chiffon, combined with shadow lace, and she also carried sweet peas.

The wedding gown of the bride was of duchess satin a straight line model, elaborately beaded in pearls. Her veil was caught with a coronet of pearls and amethysts, which were rare heirlooms belonging to her family.

A large reception followed the wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Taylor, parents of the bride, and during the evening Mr. and Mrs. Houseman left on a trip through Florida and Cuba. The bride's going-away costume was of dark blue satin, fashioned with graduated tucks and collar of white organdie, with a cape to match.

Baptist Women Will Meet.

Mrs. W. A. Hartman, superintendent of the Baptist Women's Missionary union of the Atlanta association, calls a meeting at the First Baptist church on Thursday morning, May 8, at 10 o'clock, of all the chairmen and their committees on arrangements for the entertainment of the W. M. U. of the Southern Baptist convention. The badges will be ready for distribution to all members of committees.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity Gives Banquet at Driving Club

A brilliant event of Wednesday evening was the annual spring banquet of the Atlanta association of the Kappa Alpha fraternity at the Piedmont Driving club.

Covers were placed for 250 guests at two long tables in the ballroom. At intervals down the length of the tables were low bowls of vari-colored sweet peas alternating with slender vases of pink snapdragons.

A large number of prominent out-of-town members attended the affair, including delegations from Athens, Gainesville, Covington, Newnan and Griffin.

During the dinner a number of vaudeville stunts were given by well-known artists including a jazz solo by Miss Jessie Calvert; solo dance by Miss Betty Ennis; artistic dances and music by Warner's Seven Aces.

The delightful program was arranged by De Sales Harrison, prominent member of the association.

Officers of the local alumni association are: Quimby Melton, president; Lowry Nicholson, vice president; Dan Smith, secretary, and Robert Lee Avery, treasurer.

Addresses Business Women's Club.

Wednesday evening the Atlanta Business and Professional Woman's club had the pleasure of having with them at their regular monthly meeting Mrs. J. L. Johnson, a noted educator of the south.

Her subject for the evening was "The Growth of the Business Woman." For years Mrs. Johnson has been interested in helping young women attain a college education.

Mrs. Johnson is also a hard worker in all movements for community betterment. She is a niece of Mrs. Anna Kinnebrew, of Decatur and Atlanta.

W. M. S. Holds Social Meeting.

The W. M. S. of Immanuel Baptist church held their social meeting March 30 at the church.

The pastor, Rev. J. P. Gore, made a talk on what the W. M. S. has meant to the church. Mrs. P. F. Duggan made a talk on how the Matrons' Bible class and the W. M. S. cooperate. A talk was given by Mrs. J. B. Young on what the W. M. S. has meant to the community. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. P. Gore, president.

Season's Best Coats and Suits

The Coats in the Sale

TYPICAL of the season's best, both in styling and quality, even at the original prices at which they were marked. There are handsome garments of Poirer twill, twillcord, yalama cloth and camel's hair mixtures—in plain colors or the popular plaids and stripes.

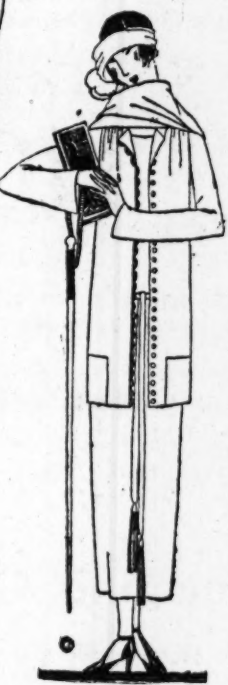

There are styles for every taste, and prices for every purse. In fact, this sale includes coats that earlier in the season were priced all the way from $29.75 to $115.00.

The Suits in the Sale

SUITS have enjoyed greater popularity this season than for quite some while—indeed, the wardrobe is not quite complete without one. This is possibly due to the fact that the styles are irresistibly snappy and good looking.

Poirer twills, twillcords, French flannels and covert cloth are the materials to be had in novelty stripes and plaids, as well as navy, tan and black. Were priced formerly from $29.75 to $65.00.

Tuxedo Dresses

As Seen in Vogue

THE simplest and most satisfactory way to acquire that well-dressed appearance in summer is to wear Tuxedo Dresses—

An intriguing Parisian design on Cheeri'o print crepe gives this Tuxedo model distinctive charm. The double overlapping collar and cuffs are edged with piping matching the color of the print. The same motif emphasizes the smartly placed belt-line. Side plaiting embellishes the skirt. White with pastel shades, tan with navy, navy with tan, navy with Nile, black with white and black with henna.

A most becoming frock for summer afternoons in town or country is this Tuxedo origination, fashioned of heavy crepe de chine, with its simple turn-back collar and lace vestee. A gracefully draped jabot at the side of the waist and skirt sounds the correct note of refined distinction. Navy, tan, black, white, cocoa, and gray.

L'apresmidi is the time to don this Tuxedo crepe de chine frock of sweet simplicity. It features the stylish Jenny neck* line, a tucked yoke effect and a finely plaited jabot. A plaited side panel and tiny bows of self material grace the skirt. Navy, tan, black, white, cocoa and gray.

"Ideals Are Source of High Efficiency," Says Mrs. Atkinson

BY MRS. SPENCER R. ATKINSON Past President and Present Chairman of Resolutions of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

The spiritual or unseen side of the life of every individual is of prime importance because "ideals are the source of all high efficiency." First, a habit of truth-telling, a habit which seems to be quite going out of fashion in this hurried life which we lead. One must train himself to tell the truth because personal integrity is the beginning and end of character. Naturally this foundation must be laid in the home. Second, comes the ideal of kindness. Irritability in the home expressed in thoughtless, selfish words wastes a very great deal of valuable strength and robs the world of much admirable efficiency. In addition it gives rise to criticism, gossip and slander which poison the social world. After truth-telling and kindness comes reverence for God and His creations. If we could form the habit in the home of looking at God, "the eyes of our hearts would be enlightened" and so much friction would disappear that the old-time sanctity of the home would be preserved. Talks along these lines and bringing out these essentials will be given during "Better Homes" week at the three homes which will be thrown open to the public the entire week of May 11. House No. 1 is located at 212 Virginia avenue. House No. 2 is located at 281 Dil. avenue and house No. 3 is located at 45 B street.

Training Course Features Lectures.

The opening of the registration for the guardians' training course, which is being given at Camp Fire headquarters from May 7 to May 17, has been marked by a wave of enthusiasm and interest on the part of thirty-three women who have enrolled themselves for the series of lectures.

The course covers a period of ten days, and the lectures will form the basis for definite, constructive work in girl-leadership.

Prominent Atlantans will lecture on various phases of psychology, recreational activities, and the Camp Fire program. Miss Mary Louise Wilson, executive secretary of Camp Fire, will speak on Friday afternoon, May 9, on the scope and aims of Camp Fire. On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Lucy Adams, prominently identified with the Y. W. C. A. work in the city, will talk on recreation and its different methods of appeal. Miss Mary Wellington will give a lecture on nature lore, and Miss Kate Haralson will lecture on music and how to make it of interest to the adolescent. Among other lectures on the program for the course will be Miss Helen Bagley, who is well known in the field of dramatics; Miss Mary Gave Whitehead, handicraft expert, and Miss Myrtle O'Stein, who will offer a novel scheme in the way of a nature treasure hunt on the concluding day of the training course.

Anyone wishing to attend the lectures is invited to do so. There will be no charge for admission.

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease—constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. They will like its wonderful, nut-like flavor—so different from common brans which are most unpalatable.

As a cereal, with milk or cream, they will enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in delicious muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

But start them eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. Start every member of your family eating it. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers. —(adv.)

CORNS AND SUCH TROUBLES.

I find in one of the newspapers a brief paragraph quoting the opinion of a Milwaukee member of the American Medical society, who says that foot ailments are being conquered by chemistry, and that soon there will be no such thing as a corn or a bunion. This is all very cheerful. I am not as sure as he is that chemistry will do away with these troubles, for chemistry cannot prevent a corn resulting from a tight shoe, or a bunion from a pointed shoe, nor will it prevent such troubles as an ingrowing toenail and fallen arches.

If you have had corns and bunions get your physician to send you to an approved chiropodist. Do not think you are wasting money. If you have skin trouble you will go to a skin specialist, if nerve trouble to a nerve specialist, why not then take foot troubles to a foot specialist?

But if you think you can manage at home purchase yourself a corn knife and a corn file made of pumice paper, soak your feet in hot water either with a little borax and soap in the water, or with a little magnesium sulphate, an ounce to every three pints of water. Remove the loose, callous skin with pumice stone or the pumice paper corn file. The corns themselves will have swollen as a result of the soaking, the tops can be cut off with the corn knife. In fact if a corn is very bad some of the dead skin can be cut off and the foot soaked again to loosen still more of it. Be very careful you do not cut into the live skin. Paint the corn with a little bit of collodion and keep a soft thin pad over it for a day or two so the shoe will not rub.

Soft corns between the toes are the same as hard corns. They are kept soft by the moisture of the feet. Vascular corns, which are mostly under the surface, should always be treated by a chiropodist. Bunions should also be treated by a specialist.

Miss Sadie B.—Your oily scalp, pimples, and blackheads may all be traced to poor elimination. Try to improve the condition by eating enough fruit to keep the system cleared all the time. Drink plenty of water between meals and do not eat much meat or oily foods.

Barbara C.—Glycerine will not cause blackheads. There is a surgical operation for straightening bow legs, but it is not advisable in your case, for you can wear your skirts long enough to cover the defect. No one should wear the high heels you mention.

Billie—Any liquid powder so fills up the pores that it tends to coarsen them, and blackheads could easily follow if the skin showed that it was affected this way.

Social Functions Feature Calendar Of Atlanta Biltmore

The Atlanta Biltmore continues to be the scene of many of the city's exclusive social functions, a number of interesting parties featuring the daily calendar.

Among those who entertained on Wednesday at the mid-week tea-dance were Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Andrews, whose party honored Mrs. George Harrington, of Garden City, Long Island. Invited to meet Mrs. Harrington were Mr. and Mrs. Ten Eyck Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler.

Mrs. W. A. Love also entertained a small group of friends.

Miss Sara Ella Schlesinger was hostess to the senior class of Washington seminary of which she is a member, at bridge and later at tea on Wednesday.

Following the game, a group of young men joined the party for dancing.

The members of the class include Misses Emily McPhail, Virginia Torrance, Runa Erwin, Nell Brawner, Johnnie Acree, Mildred Armstrong, Virginia Bates, Katherine Bayler, Mary Bowden, Catherine Candler, Mary Crenshaw, Sophie Davis, Yolande Gwin, Cara Hinman, Virginia Howard, Elizabeth Hoyt, Bobbie Hayes, Margaret Mahoney, Marion Mansfield, Ethleen North, Grey Pool, Eleanor O'Brien, Harriett Oliver, Mary Rhorer, Sarah Ella Schlesinger, Susanna Springer, Helen Wilson, Helen Jackson, Bessie Tate, Harriett Turman, Cornelia Weill, Anna Goldberg, Margaret Napier, Jean Sheat and Frances Flord.

Mrs. George Hope will entertain at luncheon on Thursday at this popular hostelry. The honor guest of the occasion will be Miss Clara Joel, the guest of Mrs. U. T. Koch.

Among those entertaining on Friday will be Mrs. J. W. Leach, who will give a supper party for a group of friends. Covers will be placed for ten.

Miss Isabelle Brady will entertain a small party at the tea-dance on Saturday.

The membership committee of the West End Woman's club, Mrs. Chester Johnson, chairman, is completing plans for a large benefit bridge party Friday, May 9, at 2:30 in the clubroom. "About 50 tables have been reserved," said Mrs. Johnson, discussing it, "and we are anxious to make this one of the most successful parties ever held by the club." There will be table prizes, souvenirs and draw prizes. Several home-made cakes will be auctioned. This will be the last social affair given by the members before the final business meeting of the year.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Johnson, West 1985. Single plates, 50 cents; tables, $2. All club members and their friends are cordially invited to take part in the afternoon's entertainment.

Graduating Class To Be Given Dance.

The Commercial High School Alumni association held its quarterly meeting Monday evening and decided to hold an alumni-senior dance in honor of the graduating members of 1924.

This dance will be given Wednesday, May 28, at the newly-built College hall, corner North avenue and Spring street, and will surpass any former affair given by the association.

All alumni members are invited. A seven-piece orchestra will furnish music.

Mr. and Mrs. Meador Change Party Date.

On account of the field day exercises at the Northside public schools, the party at which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Meador will entertain in compliment to their lovely twin daughter and son, Miss Josephine Blankenship Meador, and Thomas D. Meador, III, is postponed from Monday afternoon to Tuesday afternoon, May 13.

The younger set of society will be invited to meet the honor guests.

Alumni To Hold Second Clinic.

The second quarterly clinic of the Lucy Elizabeth Alumni will be held Thursday, May 8, at Wesley Memorial hospital.

The Pediatric staff and nurses will assist. The occasion will be sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Plato Durham, president; Mrs. John A. Mouget, chairman of the baby ward.

College Set To Give Tea-Dance.

There will be a tea-dance for the college and younger set at the Club deVing, Peachtree and Third streets, Saturday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Music will be furnished by the Dixieland Serenaders. The chaperons will be Mrs. P. O. Stribling, Mrs. S. E. McDaniel and Mrs. J. R. Klebold.

Segado Club To Give Dance.

A dance will be given Saturday evening at Segado's hall by the Segado club. Masons are especially invited.

The original Georgia Serenaders orchestra of nine pieces will render the music. This will be a social event of special interest to a wide circle of the dancing contingent, and there will be dancing from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Center Hill P. T. A. To Meet Today.

The Center Hill Parent-Teacher association will meet in the school auditorium, Thursday, May 8, at 2:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place at this meeting and Mrs. Anderson will make her report on the Savannah meeting. A fathers' meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple Friday evening, May 9. The members are urged to be on hand promptly.

Meeting Called Of Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Olivia Black, chairman of the executive board of the Ladies' Aid society, of the First Christian church, call a meeting of the officers of the society and all circle chairmen at 3 o'clock Friday, May 9, at the church.

Choral Society Of LaGrange Gives "The Rose Maiden"

The LaGrange Choral society under Director Madame Lily Hamblin-Hobbs, gave Cowen's "The Rose Maiden" on Friday evening, May 2.

"The Rose Maiden" is a pretty story with a fitting musical setting of the queen of the fairies, who begs spring to bestow upon her the gift of love like that of mankind. In spite of the warning that pain accompanies love, she insists that spring convert her into a beautiful maiden called Roseblossom. Although she meets at once a girl who has her heart broken by a faithless lover, Roseblossom takes no warning and persists in her search for a lover until she meets and marries the forestier. She has perfect happiness for a brief time, but her husband dies and she can not survive his death. The beautiful closing chorus gives thanks to God for his wisdom in giving the rose its thorn lest it be too lovely for the good of mortals.

All of the choruses in the cantata were well sung. The audience particularly enjoyed "Tis Thy Wedding Morning" and the closing one, "Yea, E'en as Die the Roses."

Miss Margaret Battle, of Atlanta, delighted the audience in her solos as Roseblossom. Miss Battle's voice is a beautiful, clear soprano, being fluent and sympathetic and showing purposeful thinking, delicacy of feeling and sincerity.

Floyd Jennings, also of Atlanta, gave equal pleasure in his tenor solo. Mr. Jennings has a charmingly clear, sweet tenor. His enunciation is distinct, and many of his notes soaring, yet withal even and tender in spite of an almost steel-like strength.

George H. Sargent, of LaGrange, sang the baritone solos in his pleasing manner. The city of LaGrange owes Mrs. Hobbs a heavy debt of gratitude for her tireless efforts to make community singing a success. She has a peculiar aptitude for such work.

The purpose of the course offered by Camp Fire leaders in Atlanta is to fill a keenly felt need for some instruction along the lines of the care of little children and home building. Camp Fire is based on the home, and the girls are taught to love the things in the home. At the present time, there is no other provision in the city for this phase of the girls' activities.

Camp Fire Girls are Schooled In Baby Craft by Mrs. Stakeley

The first class in baby craft which is scheduled for every Friday afternoon throughout the month of May was held on May 2, and was marked by a large attendance of Camp Fire Girls. There were twenty girls present, their ages ranging from 12 to 16 years.

These classes are being conducted by Mrs. Henry Stakeley, of College Park, who has a wonderful background of valuable experience as a public health nurse in New York city where she was actively engaged in work at baby clinics. Her lectures are full of facts about babies, facts which every girl and woman should know and which few do know. Mrs. Stakeley enlivens the course by amusing accounts of her experiences as a nurse and encourages discussion and questions from the girls themselves.

"Times are changing, knowledge is growing, the medical profession is advancing. We tell you the best that we know today, but we do not want you to confine yourselves to that. You must keep abreast of the times, and make use of new facts that are being discovered every day," Mrs. Stakeley told the girls.

Mrs. Stakeley's lecture was on the subject of the normal baby and how to recognize whether a baby is normal or not. She went into the history of the clothing for babies, illustrating her points with a description of the care of babies in various countries. A novel note was voiced in regard to the colors which babies should wear.

"Babies really would be better if they were dressed in soft shades of blue and green. White is one of the hardest colors on a baby's eyes. This may sound queer, but the more I think about it the more I believe this to be true. The Chinese babies wear colors—brilliant reds, for example. Red is bad, of course, but softer colors would be much better than white," said Mrs. Stakeley.

The purpose of the course offered by Camp Fire leaders in Atlanta is to fill a keenly felt need for some instruction along the lines of the care of little children and home building. Camp Fire is based on the home, and the girls are taught to love the things in the home. At the present time, there is no other provision in the city for this phase of the girls' activities.

Mrs. Stakeley stresses the fact that she wants to teach the girls who are taking the course in baby craft to think of babies in terms of saving them. "So many, many deaths can be traced to so-called little things, and if the mother had only a little training thousands of babies could be saved," said Mrs. Stakeley, in conclusion.

The next class in baby craft which meets on Friday afternoon, May 9, at 3:30 at Camp Fire headquarters, 415 Chamber of Commerce, is open to any Camp Fire girl who wishes to attend. The time at this class will be devoted to the study of the care of a normal baby, the proper clothing, the food for the baby, the bath, and the daily personal care of the baby. Girls who come are requested to be prompt and they will not be kept longer than an hour.

Open House To Be Kept By West End Club.

The Woman's Civic club of West End will keep "open house" Friday, May 9, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. The rooms are located at the corner of Gordon street and Grady Place, and have just been refurnished for the club by Mrs. J. W. Modley.

All members and their husbands or escorts are cordially invited to "drop in" some time between those hours and meet the officers and inspect the rooms. The house committee has been busy during the past week getting everything in readiness for the guests. The rooms will be decorated with wild flowers and a delightful program of music and readings has been arranged.

Mother's Day

Sunday, May 11th

"Say it With Flowers"

Next Sunday is Mother's Day! It presents an opportunity to express your love to the dearest person in any man's or woman's life.

Send her flowers. The mite you give for the much she's done will fill her heart with joy. Show your appreciation for her years of care, affection and sacrifice for you. She has given much and asks nothing in return but love. How better can this be expressed than by a tribute of flowers on Mother's Day!

Send her flowers by telegraph! If your mother is away, either of the florists listed below can deliver on short notice any flowers you may desire.

LOBSTER SALAD a la Hotel

ALLOW a small boiled lobster for each individual. Serve it in the shell. The meat should be loosened, so that it may be easily removed. Take out the inedible portions, fill in the space thus left with finely diced celery or the firm part of a cucumber mixed with mayonnaise or sauce tartare. Serve with a garnish of extra mayonnaise, lemon points and lettuce.

This dish is often accompanied with sliced tomatoes, which have been allowed to stand for a few moments in French dressing.

Recipes for mayonnaise, French dressing, sauce tartare, and many other dressings will be found in the new Wesson Oil Salad book. May we send you a copy with our compliments? Just write your name and address on a postal to Wesson Oil, 206 Bay Street, Savannah, Ga.

Matters of Interest Feature Atlanta Federation Meeting

The officers, members of the executive board and chairman of the Atlanta Federation held one of the most important board meetings of the year at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harris, recording secretary of the federation, Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president, presided with gracious dignity and many salient features were brought out at the meeting.

Mrs. Archibald P. Brantley, president of the Georgia Federation; Mrs. Val Taylor, president of the Alabama Federation; and Mrs. Samuel Inman, director for Georgia, were honor guests of the occasion.

Mrs. Bun Wylie, chairman of time and place, announced that the open meeting of the federation will be held at Red Cross hut on the grounds of United States Hospital 48, on Peachtree road at 2:45 o'clock, to precede the dedicatory services of the Soldiers' Memorial Shelter, which is set for 3:30 o'clock. Through the efforts of Mrs. H. M. Nicholas, chairman of the soldier relief committee, this shelter is ready for dedication. It is built of imperishable stone, and the building has required many months' work on the part of Mrs. Nicholas, who read a most inspirational and informative report telling the efforts through which the work was brought to completion. Mrs. Stevens praised the work of the soldier relief chairman, stating that she considered this achievement one of outstanding importance in federation circles.

Mrs. Durham's invitation. Mrs. Plato Durham invited the organization to participate in the celebration of National Hospital Day Monday, May 12, which is Florence Nightingale's birthday, and the woman's auxiliary to the Wesley Memorial hospital will keep open house to all visitors from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening to inspect the wonderful equipment of the hospital. Mrs. Durham is president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. H. G. Hastings announced that the executive board of the fifth district will meet at Agnes Scott college on Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. A luncheon will be served at the college during the morning and evening session. Mrs. Hastings, president of the district; Mrs. Alfred Newell, first vice president, reported that 10 new clubs had affiliated with the organization since the last meeting.

Letters of love and sympathy were sent to Miss Louise Dooly in Asheville, N. C., and to Miss Rosa Woodberry, state parliamentarian, absent from the meeting by recent bereavement.

Mrs. C. K. Ayer told in detail of the execution of the plan for the United States Hospital 48, on Peachtree road at 2:45 o'clock, to precede the dedicatory services of the Soldiers' Memorial Shelter, which is set for 3:30 o'clock. Through the efforts of Mrs. H. M. Nicholas, chairman of the soldier relief committee, this shelter is ready for dedication. It is built of imperishable stone, and the building has required many months' work on the part of Mrs. Nicholas, who read a most inspirational and informative report telling the efforts through which the work was brought to completion. Mrs. Stevens praised the work of the soldier relief chairman, stating that she considered this achievement one of outstanding importance in federation circles.

Mrs. Durham's invitation. Mrs. Plato Durham invited the organization to participate in the celebration of National Hospital Day Monday, May 12, which is Florence Nightingale's birthday, and the woman's auxiliary to the Wesley Memorial hospital will keep open house to all visitors from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening to inspect the wonderful equipment of the hospital. Mrs. Durham is president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. H. G. Hastings announced that the executive board of the fifth Federation. Kirkwood Civic league with its donation of $350 was second only to that of the larger Atlanta Woman's club.

The president's report included a resume of the federation's participation in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of Lee's head in carving on Stone Mountain, in the Wilson memorial services held simultaneously with the late president's funeral in Washington, D. C., in the clean-up and paint-up campaign recently called on in the city. Mrs. Stevens urged every member to cooperate with the auxiliary of the American Legion in their every undertaking.

Dr. Loveridge's Book. Special emphasis was placed on the value to the individual and the benefit to the federation derived from the sale of a new book on mental health written by Dr. Blanche Grosbeck Loveridge and entitled "The Light That Lighteth." Many presidents and chairmen made themselves responsible for the sale of copies and pledged their aid in calling it to the attention of other club women.

The book is dedicated to Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, one of the most widely-known and deeply-beloved club women in Georgia.

Luncheon Follows Meeting. Mrs. Harris entertained a beautiful buffet luncheon following the meeting at which 200 leading club women and distinguished guests were honored. Her lovely home was decorated in snowballs, purple iris, and weigela, fragrant sprigs, blossoms from the famous gardens of the hostess. Baskets and vases holding these exquisite flowers graced the consoles, mantles and piano in the music room, drawing room and library of the handsome home.

Green Venetian glassware was used to decorate the table in the dining room. A low low holding snowballs formed the centerpiece, encircled by four slender green candlesticks holding white candles. Silver coffee urns were placed at either end of the exquisitely appointed tables, and green bon bons were served from silver comports.

Mrs. Harris, the charming hostess, wore a French model in black satin, introducing white at the neckline. Mrs. Frank Neely, who poured coffee at one end of the table, wore an imported model in green Roman crepe. Mrs. Louis Elsas, gown in gray Georgette crepe, and Mrs. Georgeette crepe, richly embroidered in steel bead design, poured coffee, while Mrs. Frank Lowenstein, gown in beige colored Georgette crepe, and Mrs. Harry I. Davis, wearing a fine suit, assisted Mrs. Harris in receiving.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Egg Economy. If a cake recipe calls for four eggs and your eggs are scarce, use but three eggs and, in place of the fourth, use one spoonful of cornstarch. Beat eggs and cornstarch together and you can defy anyone to tell the difference.

Lights for the Visitors. When entertaining, be certain that there are lights every place that would be dark or unfamiliar to the visitor. A light on the porch, one in the hall or vestibule, one on the stairs and one in the room where the guest removes her wraps will be a welcome in itself.

Your Home and You. Tar and heavy grease stains will wash out if first rubbed with lard.

Menues planned a week in advance will prove more economical and more satisfactory.

Cinnamon sprinkled on the stove will kill unpleasant cooking odors and leave a refreshing spicy atmosphere.

The Half-Time Wife

BY VIOLET DARE

CHAPTER XXIV.

The wheels of destiny. Suzanne stood at Geoffrey in speechless amazement.

"You can't," she echoed. "You can't get rid of Mrs. Vale? Why in the world can't you? Geoff, she's just your secretary."

"Don't speak that way!" he exclaimed. "Just your secretary—if you had the faintest idea of how hard a busy man's secretary works, of the responsibilities that are hers and the training and ability she has to have, you wouldn't dream of speaking that way."

Suzanne did not realize that he was not trying to defend either himself or Linda Vale, so much as he was trying to discover for himself some way out of the tangle into which he had walked. She turned sharply on her heel and left the room, slamming her bedroom door behind her.

She could not think of anything but the one glaring fact that her husband refused to dismiss his secretary, even when he admitted that she had overstepped the bounds of her position. Geoff, a power in the land, Geoffrey Atwood, unable to dismiss his secretary—absurd!

"She must have more power over him than I have, and I'm his wife!" Suzanne murmured, and she felt that she must care more for her than he does for her. That thought was not new, but it was hard to bear, nevertheless.

"And what a dreadful mess I've made of things," she thought, and she handled them. Of course she is glad that her daughter has married Dick—she'd be glad to have Lolita marry money. And I did my best to keep Dick from eloping with that girl. I'm not clever enough—no wonder she's taken Geoff away from me!"

She sat down at her dressing table and stared at the flowers that Geoff had sent her the day before. Only a short time ago she had been wishing that he would send her flowers—and now he had done it, and she wasn't happy about it.

"Well, I shan't give up yet!" she exclaimed suddenly. For her love for Geoffrey had flared up as suddenly as her pride had, earlier in the afternoon. "Perhaps the hand of 'anyway'."

She ran to the trunks that she had had sent from the house but had not unpacked, and took out a frock that Geoffrey had never seen. A lovely thing of pale green chiffon, which she hurriedly slipped on, and fastened it with the other. When she went into the bedroom room she looked serene, as exquisitely pretty as if she had never been through an emotional storm.

"Geoff dear, let's bury the hatchet," she exclaimed, going over to his side. "It seems to me that you ought to tell me why you can't let Mrs. Vale go, and things have looked so queer that I can't help feeling dreadfully upset about them. But it doesn't help any for us to keep quarreling. If you'll just tell me that everything is all right, that you do care for still—well, I'll do my best to go on as if you explained everything. I want to be a good sport about all this."

"You darling thing!" He caught her up in his arms and held her close for a moment without speaking. "Oh, Suzanne, you can't know what this means to me! I'll tell you everything just as soon as I can; I promise you that. But if you'll just trust me until I can confide in you, if you'll just believe that I love you more than all the rest of the world put together, you'll never regret it. Everything's all right, really. My returning to town when you didn't know that I was back, and lunching with Mrs. Vale, was all right, really—only I can't explain about it now."

"That's all I need to know, then," she supposed, she answered, with a regretful little sigh. "Oh Geoff, don't let me die of curiosity before you tell me the rest, please."

He laughed delightedly. "I promise you that," he answered. "It seemed to Suzanne that they had the most delightful time that evening that they had ever had together. Mrs. Vale was a spectre that appeared in her mind only at intervals. And the next day, when she drove past her house and waved to Dick and Lolita, she no longer envied them. She felt sure of her own happiness now—had no premonition that she was to face trials even more severe than those that she had weathered."

OATS SHIPMENT SEIZED

Violation of Pure Food and Drugs Act Alleged.

A carload of oats, consisting of 107 sacks, was seized Wednesday by the United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, acting under a federal court order. The oats were located on the tracks at Gainesville. It is charged that they were adulterated with an excess of water, and were sold in violation of the pure food and drugs act.

The car was consigned to C. H. Martin, of Gainesville, and shipped by Embury E. Anderson, of Memphis. According to the petition of United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager, the oats were marked on each sack "Daisy Mixed Oats." A hearing has been set for June 7.

Georgia Association To Discuss Problems Of Farmers at Meet

Discussion of farm credits and topics of important bearing upon Georgia agriculture, election of officers for the ensuing year and a milk-fed chicken barbecue will be outstanding features of the annual meeting of the Georgia association, to be held at Sylvestor, May 15.

Following an executive session of director of the association, at which election of officers will take place and matters of administration and policy determined, the meeting will take the form of a general gathering of bankers, business men and farmers for discussion of agricultural questions.

The chief speaker will be J. D. Bell, manager of the Federal Intermediate Credit bank, Columbia, S. C., whose subject will be "The Agricultural Credit Corporation—How Can Cow-Hop-Hen Farmers in Georgia Avail Themselves of Its Benefits?"

Other speakers on the program are J. S. Kennedy, vice president of the Atlanta-Lowry National bank, and president of the Bank of Cartersville; J. S. Johnson, vice president of the Ashburn bank; C. L. Williamson, secretary, Atlanta Association of Credit Men; J. Phil Campbell, director of extension of the State College of Agriculture, and R. O. Crocker, manager of the sales department of the Atlanta Trust company.

The Sylvestor Kiwanis club will entertain the visitors at a luncheon and escort them by auto to Crystal Lake. At Crystal lake C. H. Bishop, president and manager of the Ashburn creamery, will be the host at a barbecue.

RE-ELECTION ASKED BY JAMES D. PRICE

James D. Price, member of the Georgia public service commission, announced Wednesday that he is a candidate for reelection this fall. Mr. Price stated that, although he knew he faced opposition in the race and he would not belittle his opponents, he felt sure that he had an advantage in the race in the five years' experience he has had in the office.

"I am very frank to say," said Mr. Price, "that experience increases a man's value on the public service commission. I am much better qualified now than I was for the first two years of my service."

Candidates who have announced for the office now held by Commissioner Price include J. B. Moore, of Appling county; A. J. Woodruff, of DeKalb county; and Clinton Parker, of Ware county, all members of the general assembly. Neither Mr. Moore nor Mr. Parker, however, have yet started active campaigning, but Mr. Woodruff is busy touring the state in the interest of his candidacy.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pain from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 12 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it." Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

WHAT, WHERE, WHY IS YOUR COLON?

The Most Critical Part of Your Anatomy and Physiology

You are a wise man or woman if you understand your colon and keep it in perfect working order. Health, happiness, vigor and long life are the gifts which an active colon gives you—and a lazy colon takes away. But, back to our question:—What is your colon; where is your colon; why is your colon? Let us attentively for only a minute and you may learn something that may add twenty years to your life.

Your colon is the last five feet of your digestive canal. It is your sewerage system; your garbage can, so to speak. Keep it clean and you are well and happy; let it stagnate and it will distill the poisons of decay, fermentation (gas) and putrefaction into your blood, poisoning your brain and nerves so that you are restless, irritable and blue; poisoning your heart so that you are weak, listless and lazy; poisoning your lungs so that your breath is heavy or foul; poisoning your stomach and digestive organs so that you are bloated, belching and uncomfortable with gas pains; poisoning your blood so that your skin looks yellow, sallow and unhealthy; poisoning every part and organ of your body, through your blood, making you look and feel old and ugly long before your time; making your joints and back stiff and rheumatic, your eyes dull and your brain sluggish.

By the perfect law of Nature, your colon should empty itself three times a day—within an hour after eating.

Does your colon work that well? If not, it has lost its tone. What do we mean by tone? Your colon is a hollow muscle. Its walls are made up of long, muscle fibres or muscle cells which, by their contraction, empty the colon just as you would squeeze a rubber hose pipe. These muscle fibres should contract three times a day—within an hour after each meal. If they do not contract, they have lost their tone—their power to contract.

But, there is a practically perfect remedy for lazy, flabby colons. This remedy quickly restores the tone, is absolutely harmless and decidedly pleasant to take. Clip this article and take it to your druggist. Tell him to give you a bottle of Colotone—the colon tonic. It will cost you one dollar if you are pleased with it, nothing if you are not pleased with it, for every druggist has been instructed to refund the price and ask no questions if his customer is not thoroughly satisfied.

But you will be delighted with Colotone, for it will make you feel like a different person. Your eyes will sparkle with vitality and alertness; your brain will be clear and active; your complexion will be fresh and transparent, reflecting the purity of your blood; your digestion will be thorough and your appetite keen, for your food will taste delightful and will agree with you; you will sleep and wake refreshed; your system will be full of vim and vigor; you will feel younger, stronger, vigorous; you will enjoy the pleasure of living.

Get started on Colotone today. Nearly every person over twenty-five or thirty years of age, and many younger, need Colotone more or less. You will be simply delighted with it. Colotone cannot possibly do you any harm—it can only do you good. Try it on our guarantee. It will help you live long, well and happily.—(Adv.)

It's Up To The Housewife To Settle This Matter Now

THE 70,000 dairymen who comprise the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association are certain that the average American housewife desires a richer and creamier evaporated milk.

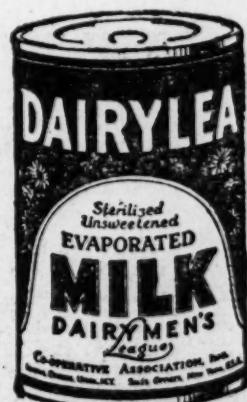

This is why they produce and also sell direct to you, DAIRYLEA Brand Evaporated Milk—their own product from the million cows they themselves own. They know that increased merit and food value will induce the public to consume more milk.

THEFORE you will find that DAIRYLEA Evaporated Milk is richer and creamier. It contains even more nutritious milk fats and solids than the high United States Government standards require. And this accounts for the delicious, fresh creamy flavor of DAIRYLEA.

Furthermore, each of these 70,000 progressive farmers, personally guarantees each can of DAIRYLEA—because each farmer shares equally in the control and responsibility of the League's $8,000,000 a month business.

DAIRYLEA Evaporated Milk is the concentrated wholesomeness of the purest fresh bottle milk—exactly the same milk which U. S. Senator Copeland, when Health Commissioner of New York City, called "the best in the world and the cheapest food at the price."

Ask your grocer and he will give you this can:

Richer Creamier

Do not confuse this GROUP LIFE INSURANCE with The Atlanta Constitution Travel and Pedestrian insurance. You may have BOTH.

There are no strings to this offer. It is the most profitable offer ever made to you. Do not delay in accepting it. One day's delay may cause your family to be unprotected, for no one knows what tomorrow may bring forth.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS:

This special plan of ours is open to every man or woman between the ages of 10 and 45 inclusive, who is in good health and free from accidents and disease, provided he or she is a registered subscriber to The Daily and Sunday CONSTITUTION.

When your application has been approved by the insurance company, you will be issued a certificate that you are insured for $500.00 through The Atlanta Constitution by the Gem City Life Insurance Company of Dayton, Ohio, one of the largest companies that specialize in group insurance.

Those who are now subscribers and those who wish to become subscribers are equally entitled to this offer.

$500.00 LIFE INSURANCE for only $7.80 per year at the rate of 15c per week for Class-A, or 20c per week for Class-B, determined by the risks, which are classified according to the mortality hazard.

Premiums can be paid at the weekly rate, biweekly, in advance. At least two weeks in advance at the weekly rate must accompany the application.

A person of 45 years and six months will be classed as 40, and not eligible.

This makes the cost of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and a $500.00 insurance policy, 35c a week for one; two members of a family, $500.00 each, Class-A risk, and The Atlanta Constitution, 50c per week; a $500.00 policy, three members of a family, and The Atlanta Constitution, 65c a week, etc., on Class-A risk. For Class-B risk $5 additional per week for each $500.00 policy per person.

LIFE INSURANCE ORDER AND REGISTRATION BLANK OF THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION Reader Service Bureau THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Hereby enter my subscription to the Daily and Sunday Constitution for one year from date, with the understanding that I am to receive a Five Hundred Dollar ($500.00) Life Insurance Certificate in The Gem City Life Insurance Company of Dayton, Ohio, on the yearly plan, payable at the weekly rate, and in accordance with the rules governing same, subject to the approval of the company. I understand that, calculated at the regular weekly rate for Class-A, it will be $7.80 per week, payable at the weekly rate of 15c in advance, or Class-B, 20c per week, payable bi-weekly in advance, of which the first week's payment is herewith enclosed, the balance to be paid by me at the Constitution office at the regular weekly rate bi-weekly in advance.

I am also to pay the regular subscription price of the Daily and Sunday Constitution either to The Constitution office, each week to the carrier, or collector, or in advance in accordance with the regular published rates. (If a new subscriber it will be necessary to send at least two weeks subscription and two weeks' premium with the application, making the total amount to accompany the order for new subscription and application for one policy, etc.)

Signed _____ Age _____ Sex _____

Occupation _____ Address _____ or R. F. D. _____

City _____ State _____

Are you at present a subscriber? _____

Remarks _____

Old subscribers as well as new may have this insurance. If you are at present a subscriber to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, please so state. When more than one certificate is taken out in the same family living in the same house, each person insured jointly subscribes to the Daily and Sunday Constitution under the above conditions. If you are a new subscriber, or want the paper by mail, inclose remittance covering at least three months' paid-in-advance subscription at the regular mail rate plus remittance for the policy at the rate and on terms specified above. The Constitution payable in advance as follows: three months or thirteen weeks, $2.50. The insurance for thirteen weeks at the regular weekly rate would amount to $1.95, the total being $4.45 for thirteen weeks. For six months or twenty-six weeks the daily and Sunday by mail payable in advance is $5.00. The insurance policy at 15c per week would be $3.90. Both insurance and The Constitution for twenty-six weeks, $5.00. The daily and Sunday by mail, payable in advance for twelve months or fifty-two weeks, $35.00. The insurance at the rate of 15c per week for fifty-two weeks, $7.80, making the cost of the Daily and Sunday and the insurance for a period of twelve months, $42.80, and $3.00 additional for each additional member of the family who takes out a $500.00 policy. The second class risk would of course be 10c per week additional to the foregoing.

TELLS OF MONEY PAID MANINGTON

Washington, May 7.—After a series of quiet sessions devoted to anti-trust problems, the senate Daugherty investigation today swung back to the more colorful fields presented by the activities of Howard Manington and by the events leading up to the indictment of Senator Wheeler in Montana.

A detailed story of money payments to Manington in whisky, tax and shipping board cases was told the committee by Mr. P. K. Kraftmiller, said he had lived with Manington for a time at the "little green house" on K street. He declared the money was collected on a basis of Manington's supposed "closeness" to Attorney General Daugherty, and that in some cases the desired results were attained.

W. J. Burns, chief of the justice department's investigation bureau, conceded during a tumultuous half hour on the witness stand that Daugherty had ordered a department agent assigned to investigate Senator Wheeler, the Daugherty committee prosecutor, and that he had heard Daugherty and George B. Lockwood, secretary of the republican national committee, talking over Wheeler's indictment before it was returned.

Discussed With Daugherty. Burns said he had ordered a man named "Bonner" to watch Means who has been an agent and detective for the committee.

"Bonner followed Means wherever he went," Burns said. "That was done at the suggestion of Hiram C. Todd, assistant attorney general prosecuting Mr. Means in New York."

When Senator Wheeler suddenly switched the questioning to Burns' association with Blair Coan, an employee of the republican national committee, who went to Montana to investigate Wheeler, Burns agreed that he knew Coan and had met H. C. Glosser, a witness against Wheeler. Senator Wheeler asked Burns how many times he had seen Coan.

"What do you mean consulted?" replied the witness. "I saw him four or five times. We talked about Senator Wheeler's case every time. He identified me as named 'Mr. Graw' as a private detective formerly employed by himself, but declared the man worked now for the republican national committee."

"You have consulted Mr. Lockwood, secretary of the national committee, frequently, on my case?" Senator Wheeler demanded. Burns said: "I talked with him several times. Under further questioning he finally conceded that he talked with Lockwood and former Attorney General Daugherty about Wheeler's indictment before it was returned."

"How many of your private men were in Montana on my indictment?" Senator Wheeler asked.

"Not a one," Burns exclaimed. "though a lot of these lice around here are trying to tell you they were." Senator Wheeler told the witness not to "browbeat" the committee, but moderate his voice. Burns took exception to that, saying the senator would be "mad, too, if he knew as much about this as I do."

Offered Retainer By Germany. The committee prosecutor then asked:

MEAN AND ZEVELY BEFORE OIL JURORS

Washington, May 7.—Edward B. McLean, publisher of The Washington Post, and J. W. Zevely, of counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, were called as witnesses today before the special oil grand jury in the District of Columbia supreme court.

McLean was required under his subpoena to produce all telegrams and letters exchanged between himself and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior and principal figure in the senate oil inquiry. This correspondence and McLean's private telegrams have been the subject of an exhaustive examination by the senate oil committee.

McLean testified before the senate investigators that he had agreed at the request of Fall to say he had loaned the former cabinet officer $100,000 cash instead of giving him unsecured checks for that amount. At the same time the publisher denied any knowledge with respect to the oil leases or the actual source of the loan which he subsequently learned Fall had obtained from Edward L. Doheny, lessee of naval reserve No. 1.

Zevely also appeared before the senate committee and testified that Sinclair had loaned Fall $25,000 in Liberty bonds four months after the interior secretary left the cabinet and at the time that he was requested to make a trip to Europe for the lessee of Teapot Dome. Zevely produced before the committee a note for $25,000 which he said was an evidence of the debt.

JACK WALTON SEEKS SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 7.—J. C. Walton, whose spectacular fight against the Ku Klux Klan and eccentricities in office led to his removal as governor, is back in politics. He filed his application as a candidate for the United States senate Wednesday and announced that he expected to receive the nomination and go to Washington with overwhelming majorities.

Walton and he would make the Klan an issue in his campaign speeches.

Shortage Charged Cashier of Bank Looted by Bandits

New York, May 7.—Charles M. Vanderoff, cashier of the First National Bank of Belmore, N. Y., which was held up and robbed on April 4 by six bandits who shot and killed Ernest Whitman, bond salesman, today was arrested, charged with misappropriating $4,000 of the bank's funds.

Vanderoff was said to have been in the bank at the time the bandits carried out their holdup. The holdup men escaped with $5,000 after having shot and killed Whitman, who happened to be in the bank. He entered the door as they were running to get away with their loot.

Vanderoff was arrested in Belmore by national bank examiners who were going over the bank's records. He was taken to Brooklyn and arraigned before Federal Commissioner McCabe, before whom he pleaded not guilty. Bail was set at $25,000, pending an examination Friday afternoon.

TEXTILE SLUMP PROBE RECEIVES SETBACK

Washington, May 7.—The proposed inquiry into the depression in the textile industry received a setback today in the senate when Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, objected to consideration of the resolution authorizing it. Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, author of the resolution, declared he would not further recesses of the senate unless opportunity was given to consider his proposal.

FLIPPER ADDRESSES METHODIST MEETING

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—(Special.) An address by Bishop J. S. Flipper, of Georgia, and reports of Professor John R. Hawkins, financial secretary, and other officials featured the third day's sessions of the African Methodist Episcopal church conference here today. The republican party was rapped by the general conference and negroes were urged to be independent.

Among the many aspirants for Episcopal honors, Revs. J. A. Lindsay, of Savannah, Ga.; L. A. Townsley, of Atlanta, and F. R. Sims, of Georgia, are being considered. Rev. J. A. Hadley is booked for missionary secretary and T. J. Hall for church extension. The election will take place next week.

Representatives from Georgia who are taking an active part in the sessions are Rev. V. Branch, A. A. Dunham, W. J. Williams, C. G. Gray and President B. R. Holmes.

MUSCOGEE JURY SEEKS
POLICE CHIEF'S SCALP

Columbus, Ga., May 7.—(Special.) Recommendation that J. M. Huling, present chief of police, be removed from head of the department and the officers be placed under the sheriff or another chief was made in the presentment of the Muscogee county grand jury today.

It was stated in a copy of the presentment given out for publication that the recommendation for the removal of Chief Huling was based upon a statement made by Huling before the grand jury and the traverse jury "would not believe him on oath."

It is further stated in the presentment that Chief Huling told the grand jury that it was almost impossible for him to secure a conviction because of the lack of cooperation from court officials.

that the recommendation for the removal of Chief Huling was based upon a statement made by Huling before the grand jury and the traverse jury "would not believe him on oath."

Woman Declares
She Kidnaped Tot
To Fool Husband

Philadelphia, May 7.—Ten-week-old Corinne Modell, stolen on Monday as she lay asleep in her coach in front of her home was found by the police today in the house of a woman who admitted she took the infant to fool her husband. The child was in good condition.

The woman, Mrs. Mary de Marco, and her husband, Gorman de Marco, were arrested. The house where the child was found is in West Philadelphia, about a mile from the Modell home.

Mrs. de Marco told the police she took the baby home on Monday and that she had told her husband it was born that day while he was at work. Her husband, she said, believed her story. The police, however, were skeptical and arrested both.

Mrs. Harry Modell, mother of the infant, shrieked when informed over the telephone that her baby had been recovered and fainted in the arms of a brother-in-law. Shortly afterward her husband rushed into their home with the child in his arms and handed it to the mother.

"Oh, my darling, my darling; thank God I have you back," Mrs. Modell cried.

The police were led to the home of Mrs. de Marco by a "tip" from neighbors who said they saw her enter her home on Monday carrying a "large bundle." The house was placed under surveillance last night and when the police questioned the woman she stoutly maintained the child found there was her's. She referred the police to a physician in some distance from her home, who, she said,

Man Gets Divorce
From 2nd Wife
For First Love

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 7.—(Special.)—Oliver F. Morgan, 28, appeared here today in the hearing of his suit for divorce from Mrs. Willie Mae Morgan, 22, Dalton, Ga. Three years ago, he said, he was a business man and was living happily with his wife and three children in Chattanooga, Tenn., his wife secured a divorce, and he married another woman, he said.

His second wife neglected his home, and they soon separated.

Morgan produced a letter recently received from his first wife. It read: "The babies are certainly proud of the new clothes you sent them. Every night they ask, when is daddy coming back. I feel that I am mostly to blame for our trouble of the past, because I was too eager to believe the false tales that were circulated against you as regards your many love affairs with other women. If you will come back, we will start all over again for the sake of our children, and raise them as we should."

Morgan pleaded with tears in his eyes as he produced the letters. "I will give you the chance," said Judge Hoffman, as he granted the divorce. "I hope this will be a lesson to both of you."

NEGRO NOT BE HANGED
IN SPIRIT OF REVENGE

Florence, Ariz., May 7.—The execution of William B. Smith, convicted slayer of Ted Grosh, 19-year-old University of Arizona athlete, will be carried out under no circumstances by which it "could be construed as an act of revenge," Superior Judge Sims, of the Arizona state prison, declared in a statement issued last night.

The statement was prompted by reports that W. H. Grosh, father of Ted, had requested and received permission to spring the gallows trap at the execution of the convicted man.

Ward, a negro, was sentenced to die June 20, but the penalty was automatically stayed by an appeal to the state supreme court.

For First Love

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 7.—(Special.)—Oliver F. Morgan, 28, appeared here today in the hearing of his suit for divorce from Mrs. Willie Mae Morgan, 22, Dalton, Ga. Three years ago, he said, he was a business man and was living happily with his wife and three children in Chattanooga, Tenn., his wife secured a divorce, and he married another woman, he said.

His second wife neglected his home, and they soon separated.

Morgan produced a letter recently received from his first wife. It read: "The babies are certainly proud of the new clothes you sent them. Every night they ask, when is daddy coming back. I feel that I am mostly to blame for our trouble of the past, because I was too eager to believe the false tales that were circulated against you as regards your many love affairs with other women. If you will come back, we will start all over again for the sake of our children, and raise them as we should."

Morgan pleaded with tears in his eyes as he produced the letters. "I will give you the chance," said Judge Hoffman, as he granted the divorce. "I hope this will be a lesson to both of you."

NEGRO NOT BE HANGED
IN SPIRIT OF REVENGE

Florence, Ariz., May 7.—The execution of William B. Smith, convicted slayer of Ted Grosh, 19-year-old University of Arizona athlete, will be carried out under no circumstances by which it "could be construed as an act of revenge," Superior Judge Sims, of the Arizona state prison, declared in a statement issued last night.

The statement was prompted by reports that W. H. Grosh, father of Ted, had requested and received permission to spring the gallows trap at the execution of the convicted man.

Ward, a negro, was sentenced to die June 20, but the penalty was automatically stayed by an appeal to the state supreme court.
